NUCLEAR SPREAD BAN RATIFIED

...Senate Votes 83-15 Amid Outcry Against ABM

Washington (UPI) — After an eight-month political stalemate and a host of last-minute reservations that were soundly defeated, the Senate Thursday approved the proposed treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

Amid a growing outcry in Congress and across the nation against deployment of an antiballistic missile (ABM) system, the Senate approved the treaty by a vote of 83 to 15. The treaty expressly urges diplomatic efforts to negotiate an end to the arms race.

Forty-nine Democrats and 34 Republicans voted for the treaty. Seven Southern Democrats and eight Republicans voted against it. Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb., voted for the treaty, and Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Neb., voted against it.

The treaty still needs ratification by the Soviet Union and 31 other countries before it takes effect.

"I can't believe that the President of the United States, in the face of this vote, would go ahead with the deployment of the ABM," Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said shortly before the vote.

The Foreign Relations Committee chairman said the treaty's provision committing the United States and other countries to strategic arms negotiations "doesn't prohibit it (the ABM) legally," but deployment would violate "the spirit of the treaty."

Reason To Reconsider

Fulbright said the Senate's action "will help him (Nixon) make a political decision. It has given him an ample base to reconsider."

He said the growing opposition to the Sentinel was "strictly bipartisan" and "one of the most spontaneous movements in the Senate for a long time."

The treaty was submitted to the Senate last July by former President Johnson but it got caught up in last fall's presidential election campaign and was never acted on by the Senate.

President Nixon, then the Republican nominee, urged against immediate Senate action because of the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia. After he took office, however, Nixon called for prompt Senate approval of the treaty in the interests of the United States.

Opponents practically conceded defeat after a series of proposed "understandings" to the Senate ratification resolution were rejected.

The treaty, first major international arms agreement since the 1963 pact banning atmospheric nuclear tests, would bar the United States, Russia and Britain from sharing their nuclear weapons with other countries. The 85 non-nuclear signatories renounce their right to produce or acquire nuclear weapons.

Unlike the test ban treaty, which set off one of the bitterest Senate struggles since President Woodrow Wilson's League of Nations proposal, the nonproliferation treaty created scarcely a ripple of dissent.

Blasted By Conservatives

Conservatives blasted it as a halfway measure with no real meaning. But some, like Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S.D., who called it "highly disappointing and inadequate," ended up voting for it.

The eight-month delay in Senate approval was more a result of the change of administrations than any specific objections to the treaty itself.

Northeast Only Surviving King

. . . SCHUYLER, GRANT FALL

By JOHN HINES
Star Sports Writer

Only Lincoln Northeast survived among three defending state champions who played Thursday as the Nebraska State High School Basketball Tournament opened in Lincoln at three sites.

The Rockets, bidding for an unprecedented third consecutive state championship, had to come from a six-point deficit with six minutes left to subdue stubborn Hastings, 60-55. It was the 19th straight victory this year for Northeast and No. 30 in a row over a two-year period.

Fremont Bergan went two overtimes to eliminate 1968 Class B champ Schuyler, while Grant's defending Class C titleholders were sent home with a 67-49 thumping administered by Elkhorn.

Omaha Central proved a regular - season victory was no fluke by stopping fourth-seeded Omaha Westside, 71-63, in a game made closer only by a furious but futile Westside fourth-quarter rally. Central now plays Northeast in the semifinals at 1:45 today at Pershing Auditorium. These two clubs have met in the finals the last two years, Northeast winning both times.

The other Class A semifinal at 1:45, this one set for the University of Nebraska Coliseum, pits Creighton Prep and Scottsbluff. The Junior Jays defeated Omaha Metro rival Tech, 68-54, while Scottsbluff handed Norfolk a 66-57 setback in a rematch of their recent Big 10 playoff tilt. It was Scottsbluff's 16th straight win.

Inspired Hastings held a 43-37 lead with 6:19 left before Dan Cook led the Rockets on the comeback trail. Cook had seven points and two key passes to teammates for layups in the fourth quarter.

Tom Novak hit two straight buckets to bring Northeast from a one-point deficit to a 49-46 lead with 2:52 to go and the Rockets never trailed again.

Mike Nicolarsen scored 15 points and big Mike Rol and Jim Gessford 14 apiece as Hastings used its size and a good defensive effort to nearly pull off the upset.

Loren Navratil hit four crucial free throws in the second overtime to boost Bergan, although Schuyler's Gene Harmon was the leading scorer for all classes Thursday with 39 points.

Elkhorn took a 15-point halftime lead against Grant and the Plainsmen, going down to only their 11th loss in the last 101 games covering four straight state tourney years, sealed their fate by missing three straight third-quarter layups when they were trailing by 10 points.

The Class B semis pit Crete against Syracuse in what should be a thriller and Cozad against Fremont Bergan. Crete lost to Syracuse by one point and defeated the Rockets by two in regular-season play so this will be their rubber match. Bergan was the only close winner in opening B action.

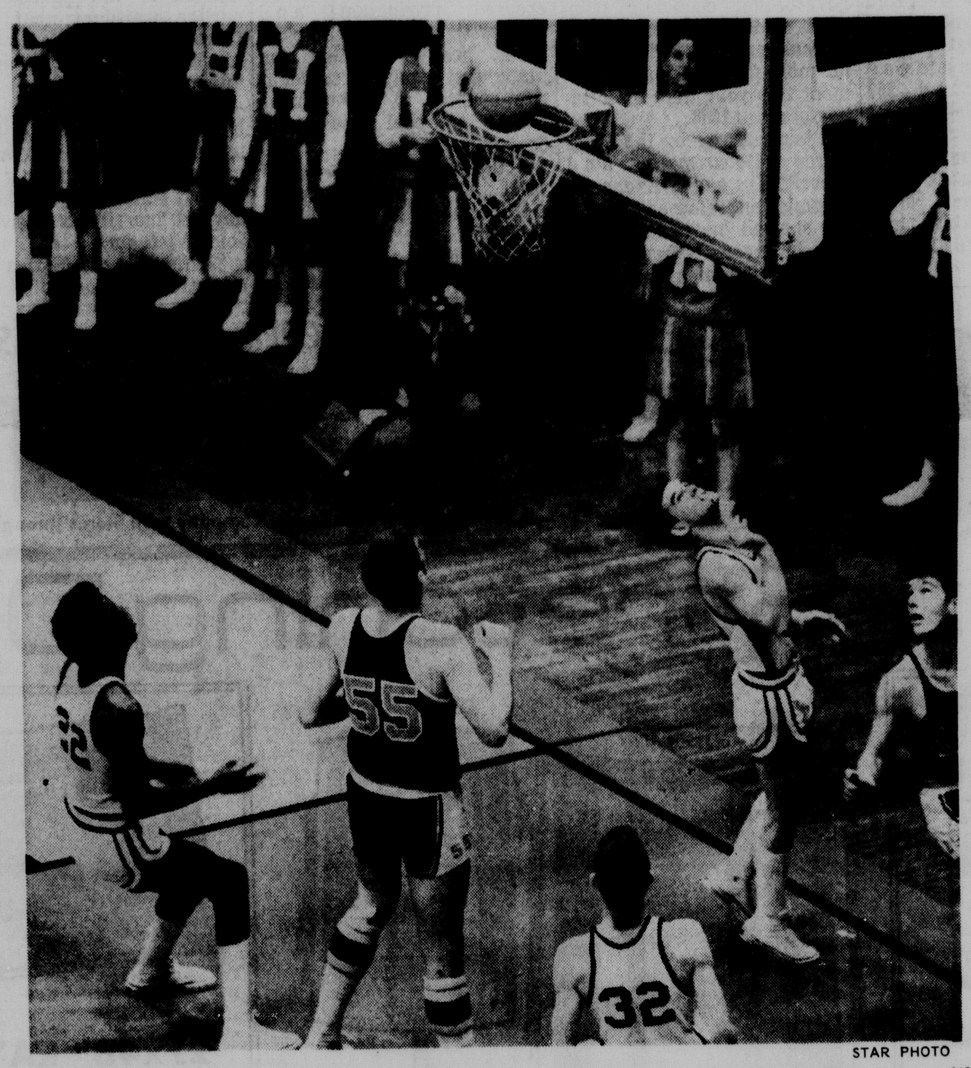

Top-seeded Cambridge ousted the Hebron Bears, 64-53, and now tests Elkhorn in one Class C semifinal, with Wausa and St. Cecilia, both only once-beaten all season, tangling in the other.

Class D's top-rated team, the Sterling Jets, came through with a 78-58 victory over Overton in their lidlifter and now play Yutan, with Clarks and Shickley tipping off in the other semifinal joust.

Clarks had a 48-47 squeaker past Atkinson St. Joseph, as Randy Pollard hit the clinching bucket with 1:20 to play. The losers scored their last basket with 15 seconds left but couldn't get the ball back.

Legislative Domination Of Panel Hit

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Sen. Elvin Adamson, chief sponsor of legislation proposing establishment of a constitutional revision commission, said Thursday he will oppose committee amendments giving the Legislature domination over the commission.

Gov. Norbert Tiemann's expressed objections to the committee's actions are "legitimate," Adamson said.

Tiemann said he will veto the bill if it is enacted in a form which provides for legislative domination.

More On Unicam Pages 7, 8, 11

The Government and Military Affairs Committee proposed amendments to LB244 which provide for a 19-member commission, composed of 10 state senators, six persons named by the governor, and three appointed the State Supreme Court.

The committee also directed that a state senator automatically become chairman of the commission.

"I don't feel that I can accept that," Adamson said. "It more or less defeats the objectives set out by the study committee on constitutional change.

"We recommended the appointment of a commission which could take as objective a look as possible at the constitution."

The Legislature would still have the final say over which recommendations of the commission would be submitted to the electorate as proposed amendments, the Valentine senator noted.

Adamson said he will visit with other members of the study committee about the issue.

But, personally, he said, he would be amenable to floor action limiting to three the number of senators who could be members of the commission.

Adamson has proposed that six persons be appointed by the Legislature and three each by the governor and the court. Those 12 members could then name up to eight additional persons to assist them in studying the constitution.

Adamson said he also believes the commission should be free to choose its own chairman.

If 10 senators are to sit on a 19-member commission, "it would be just as practical to hold a special legislative session on amendments to the constitution," he said.

GSA Rejects City's Base Housing Offer

By TOM EKVALL
Star Staff Writer

The old Lincoln Air Force Base housing area became "anybody's ball" with the announcement by General Services Administration (GSA) Thursday that it has turned down offers submitted by the Lincoln Housing Authority for purchase of the 1,000 units.

In the wake of the announcement by GSA, Bill Swearingen, a local realtor, said a group of retired Air Force people he represents will bid for the property when it is made available on the open market.

Sam Parker, an official at the Kansas City, Mo., regional office of GSA, said in a telephone interview Thursday that the offer by the Housing Authority was far below the fair market appraisal of the air base property.

Parker said his office now plans to put the property on the open market within 30 days with the advertising for sealed bids to be run for a 45-day period.

Received Letter

Kenneth King, chairman if the Lincoln Housing Authority, told Housing Authority commissioners during a meeting Thursday that he received a letter earlier in the week regarding GSA's rejection of the authority's bid.

The authority had submitted two alternative offers with funds to come from a local firm.

King said after the meeting that the authority has no plans now to up its offer before GSA calls for bids.

"Our offer is as high as we can go," he said.

King said the Housing Authority hopes to bid on the property when it becomes available on the open market

Below Value

Parker said federal laws require that the GSA not accept any offer which is below the appraised value of property the federal government must sell.

The air base property was appraised by a contracted appraiser during October 1968.

Apollo 9 Brings U.S. Lots Closer To Moon

Aboard the USS Guadalcanal (AP) — The Apollo 9 astronauts landed safely in the calm Atlantic Thursday in a perfect ending to the riskiest spaceflight yet. Their triumph brought America a huge step closer to a moon landing.

Air Force Cols. James A. McDivitt and David A. Scott and civilian Russell L. Schweickart landed their six-ton spacecraft within worldwide television view of this waiting aircraft carrier, a setdown as precise as the flight itself.

Joyful space officials at the Houston Space Center called the flight "as successful . . . as any of us could ever wish for."

"When all the data are in, we'll be set for the final flight to the lunar landing," said Dr. Robert Gilruth, director of the Manned Spaceflight Center.

Shaping The Future

President Nixon, in a telegram sent to the spacemen aboard this ship, said, "You have by your courage and your skill helped to shape the future of man in space."

"It's sure good to be back," McDivitt told hundreds of cheering sailors on the Guadalcanal.

The astronauts were hustled into sick bay for medical examinations and a midafternoon report from flight surgeon Dr. Clarence Jernigan said they were in good condition.

All three of the astronauts wore heavy 10-day-old beards, McDivitt's much darker and bushier than the light chin growth of Scott and Schweickart.

For their first meal on the ship, Scott and Schweickart had steak. McDivitt chose waffles.

Apollo 9 came home like a burning bullet, blazing across the southwestern United States to a pinpoint landing 3.5 miles from the carrier.

The spaceship, charred from its searing re-entry, splashed gently into the ocean and bobbed with its point up.

First Scott, then Schweickart, and finally McDivitt left their space shelter and climbed into rubber rafts.

A helicopter tried for several minutes to maneuver a rescue basket into reach of the spacemen, but downwash from the huge rotor blades churned the water and sent the rafts and spacecraft bobbing wildly.

Scott climbed aboard the basket first and was hauled up to the hovering chopper. Schweickart's transfer went more quickly, but he was dunked briefly in the water before he was hauled aboard. McDivitt, commander of Apollo 9, was the last to leave.

Bearded and walking carefully on the pitching deck, the space trio stepped from the helicopter aboard the carrier and walked down a brilliant red carpet to a waiting microphone.

"I think you guys on the Guadalcanal kept us going the last few days," McDivitt told the carrier crew. "Heard you had a big cake here and every night when we were eating our evening meal we discussed how much of the cake we're going to eat. I don't think we ate very much the last couple of days just getting ready for it."

A 350-pound, four-tiered cake had been prepared for the crew by the Guadacanal cooks.

Today's Chuckle

On top of all the rest of the stress, strain and responsibility of his office, the President is expected to go out and root for the Washington Senators.

New York Times News Summary

336 GIs Killed In Second Week Of Offensive

(C) New York Times News Service

Saigon — The U.S. Command announced that 336 American soldiers died during the second week of the enemy's current offensive. Enemy casualty figures were down significantly from the first week. (More on Page 2.)

Schorr Denies Plagiarizing

Los Angeles — Striking similarities were found between the testimony of a psychologist on Sirhan B. Sirhan's mental condition and a case history in a book by a New York criminal psychiatrist. The psychologist, Dr. Martin M. Schorr, admitted reading the book prior to the trial, but denied plagiarizing any part of it.

Reds Accused Of Terrorism

Paris — The United States accused Hanoi and the Viet Cong at the Paris talks of seeking "to terrorize the civilian population" of South Vietnam. (More on Page 2.)

Dayan Drive Gathers Speed

Jerusalem — The formation of a new government in Israel under Mrs. Golda Meir was completed with the drafting of a new platform. At the same time, a movement supporting Defense Minister Moshe Dyan for prime minister gathered momentum.

Wilson To Go To Nigeria

London — British Prime Minister Harold Wilson will go to Nigeria later this month to attempt to find a way to settle the civil war. The announcement came after a House of Commons debate on the policy of supplying arms to Nigeria in its civil war with rebel Biafra.

N-Spread Ban Approved

Washington — The Senate approved the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, ending a five-year effort to achieve an international ban on the spread of atomic weapons. (More on Page 1.)

ABM Opposition Climaxes

Washington — Opposition to the deployment of the Sentinel antiballistic missile system reached its climax with senators and scientists pressing President Nixon not to go ahead with the system. The President is expected to make his decision known Friday.

Suez Dueling Goes On

Jerusalem — Egyptian and Israeli forces staged another artillery duel across the Suez Canal. (More on Page 2.)

Apollo 9 Returns

Houston — The 10-day mission of Apollo 9 ended when the spacecraft made a safe splashdown in the Atlantic north of Puerto Rico. The flight proved the lunar landing craft spaceworthy and thus cleared the way for the attempt to land men on the moon this summer. (More on Page 1.)

Pueblo Inquiry Ends

Coronado, Calif. — The naval court of inquiry into the loss of the intelligence ship Pueblo ended with its captain, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, defending his surrender of the ship. The court's recommendations to the Pacific fleet commander, Adm. John Hyland, are expected in about 10 days.

GI Deaths Double Average

World News

Saigon (AP) — A slackening of the enemy offensive caused American battle deaths to decline last week to 336, but this figure is still double the average killed weekly in 1969 before the drive began Feb. 23, U.S. Command figures showed Thursday.

The total was 117 fewer than the 453 Americans killed in the first week of the offensive.

It increased U.S. battle deaths in eight years of war to 32,712, only 917 short of the 33,629 killed in the Korean War, the third bloodiest in American history.

Shelling Is Intensive

U.S. officers say the increase in weekly casualties is largely because of the intensive shelling of American military posts that have been primary targets of the enemy offensive. An average of about 50 have been shelled nightly since the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong kicked off the drive.

The allied commands' first reports Friday morning listed more than 15 mortar and recoilless rifle attacks that killed seven civilians, wounded 22 persons and caused light military casualties and damage. The previous night at least 40 shellings were reported and the night before that 15 to 20.

In the latest reported fighting, the U.S. Command said a U.S. Marine company clashed with North Vietnamese Thursday near the Rockpile outpost just south of the demilitarized zone, the fourth fight near the zone since the offensive began.

The Marines gave no count of enemy casualties. Marine losses were put at six killed, 25 wounded.

U.S. 1st Infantry Division troops claimed 13 enemy killed in a clash 30 miles northeast of Saigon where intelligence indicates concentrations of enemy troops possibly are preparing to move toward the capital. Headquarters said there were no U.S. casualties.

U.S. officers believe that a primary aim of the offensive is to cause a rising rate of American casualties and to create a clamor in the United States to end the war. This would put pressure on the Americans to make concessions in the peace talks in Paris.

Field reports indicate that since Feb. 23, the ratio of Americans killed or wounded in rocket and mortar attacks on fixed positions has risen sharply compared with casualties in the field.

Not Sitting Ducks

With rare exceptions, field commanders dispute the idea that their men are sitting ducks for enemy shelling by holding fixed defensive positions.

U.S. spokesman said there has been no letup in allied operations to seek out the enemy. American forces mount about 3,000 operations ranging from small patrols to multibattalion sweeps every 24 hours.

Field officers say that while enemy barrages are a factor in rising American casualties, most losses still result from small encounters in which one or two U.S. soldiers are killed and three or four wounded.

Booby Trap Deadliest

They report the booby trap probably accounts for more casualties than any other device in the enemy's arsenal.

In comparison, only three per cent of American casualties in World War II were caused by mines and booby traps.

The allied also reported South Vietnamese and enemy casualties fell off last week.

The South Vietnamese command reported 259 soldiers were killed, compared with 521 killed the week before. The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands said 4,063 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were killed last week, as against 6,813 the week before.

Plans Heighten Economic Worry

Washington — Businessmen have given government economic planners added worries by forecasting they will spend far more for plant and equipment this year than in inflation-plagued 1968.

A joint survey by the Commerce Department and Securities and Exchange Commission released Thursday showed businessmen expect to invest 14% more in tools and facilities than they did last year.

Because it leads to increased production and further tightening of employment, heavy spending for plant and equipment would run counter to government efforts to cool down the economy.

Actual 1968 investment in plant and equipment rose to $64.1 billion from $61.7 billion in 1967. The anticipation survey foresees this figure rising in 1969 to $73 billion.

Guns Bark Again Along Suez Canal

Tel Aviv (AP) — Israel and Egypt fought an artillery duel up and down the 103-mile Suez Canal Thursday for the fourth time in six days.

Cairo claimed it downed three Israeli helicopters, but there was no confirmation here. The fighting broke out in late afternoon and raged for one hour and 45 minutes until U.N. observers persuaded both sides to cease fire. Then it broke out again after darkness and lasted 45 minutes.

Fires were seen blazing at Egypt's Port Suez oil installations.

Cairo radio said later that the fires were under control and listed six casualties, but gave no indication how serious they were.

It said that besides the three Israeli helicopters, Egyptian gunners destroyed three missile positions, eight mortar batteries, six tanks, eight observation posts and four administrative outposts on the Israeli side.

There was no word on any Israeli casualties or losses from military spokesmen in Tel Aviv.

The new outbreak came a few hours after Cairo radio announced the appointment of Maj. Gen. Ahmed Ismail Aly as new chief of staff of Egypt's armed forces. He replaced Lt. Gen. Abdel Moneim Raid, killed in fighting along the canal Sunday.

Lodge Denounces Enemy Terrorism

New York Times Service

Paris — The United States charged Thursday that North Vietnam and the Viet Cong were seeking "to terrorize the civilian population into submission" in South Vietnam.

However, chief U.S. negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge, while denouncing terrorism, did not repeat at Thursday's eighth plenary session of the peace talks earlier warnings that continued shelling of South Vietnamese cities would draw an "appropriate response."

The term was instead used by the head of the Viet Cong team, Tran Buu Kiem, in cautioning Washington against retaliation for the 18-day-old guerrilla offensive in South Vietnam.

"If the United States administration commits new adventurous acts of war under the pretext of 'appropriate response'," Kiem said, "it will bear full responsibility for the consequences."

Both Kiem and the chief delegate for Hanoi, Xuan Thuy, sounded less virulent in their denunciations of President Nixon than in the last two of the weekly roundtable sessions. Nevertheless, they repeated their assertions that the new administration was intensifying the "war of aggression" in Vietnam.

In a short rebuttal, Lodge said he rejected the other side's accusation of U.S. aggression. Thuy rejoined: "And I reject your rejection."

The exchange concluded a perfunctory session in which the two sides talked for four hours. They took a half-hour break without mingling.

May Draft Call Is 27,600 Men

Washington (AP) — The Pentagon announced Thursday it will induct 27,600 men into the armed forces in May, the smallest number since January.

The May draft call compares with 26,800 in January, 33,700 in February, 33,100 in March and 33,000 in April.

The Nebraska draft call for May is 243 men, the lowest number since January, State Selective Service Director Guy N. Henninger said Thursday.

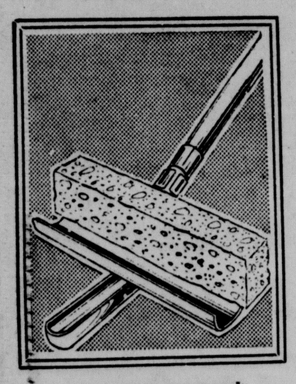

The January call was 213, February 258, March 264 and April 291.

Jury In Davis Trial Retires For Night Without Verdict

By CRAIG CALLAWAY
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Grand Island — The jury in the murder trial of Thomas F. Davis in Hall County District Court here retired to a local hotel Thursday night without reaching a verdict.

The jurors were locked up in the hotel for the night shortly after they ceased deliberations at 11 p.m. They were to resume at 9 a.m. Friday.

Davis is charged with first degree murder of his wife, Phyllis last Aug. 14.

The jurors were sent to the jury room at 12:38 p.m. Thursday following three hours of closing statements by Special Prosecutor R. M. Van Steenberg of Scottsbluff and defense attorney John Mitchell of Omaha and instructions from Judge Donald Weaver.

Judge Weaver told the jury it could return a verdict of guilty and a recommended death sentence, or a verdict of guilty and a recommendation of life imprisonment, or a not guilty verdict. A verdict would require unanimous decision of the jury.

Van Steenberg told the jurors in his closing statement, the case against Thomas Davis began in February, 1968, when Davis brought his wife's high school friend (Cheryl Crane) to visit his wife in the hospital and then took Mrs. Crane to a "bed of assignation." And the case ended on Aug. 14, Van Steenberg said, when Mrs. Davis had "gotten in the way . . . and was destroyed."

He charged that "lover boy Tom Davis" had never bought life insurance until the last half year of his marriage and then suddenly he started "chasing insurance men like they were going out of style" and paying the premiums at a time when his checks were bouncing.

According to Van Steenberg, one of the strongest human urges is the desire to stay alive and a man just doesn't tell his relatives that he would like to "plead guilty and get it over with" unless he's either "crazy or guilty."

Van Steenberg deemed the testimony of Mrs. Thomas Davis Sr., the defendant's mother, as "just too pat." If Mrs. Davis knew that her son was in Lincoln, Van Steenberg asked, why did she later tell him to go ahead and give a statement to State Patrol Investigator Donald Grieb "if you are innocent?"

Van Steenberg castigated the defense witnesses as "adulterers and drunken bartenders." And he called Davis an "adulterer, liar, and cheat."

No Evidence

Mitchell told jurors that the prosecution had put forth no evidence to show Davis at the death scene nor tie him in with anyone who might have been.

Mitchell took verbal shots at Davis' relatives who "turned stool pigeon and ran to the county attorney's office with everything Tom said . . . then when Tom didn't say anything they wondered why he didn't." Mitchell said, "he's damned if he does and damned if he doesn't; how can you win that game?"

Mitchell said that the state had never produced any sort of theory as to how Mrs. Davis was supposedly killed but that indeed he — Mitchell — had a few suggestions.

Wondered Aloud

The death could have been an accident and it could have been a murder and it could have been a combination of the two, Mitchell said. He wondered aloud what sort of things were "going on" in the farmhouse at the end of the deadend road in which direction Thomas Harmon had said he'd seen car lights coming from before he and his girlfriend came upon the Davis vehicle in a ditch.

Mitchell ripped into the testimony of Grieb, Trooper John Cox, former deputy Sheriff Gary Piel and Prof. W. F. Welland, saying that for the most part their testimony wasn't worth belief.

In Weiland's case, specifically, Mitchell noted that the professor had remembered the gravel road involved as positively being blacktopped and had said there was no snow in the ditch in mid-February and never had the car at the scene to make a test with.

'Bumbling'

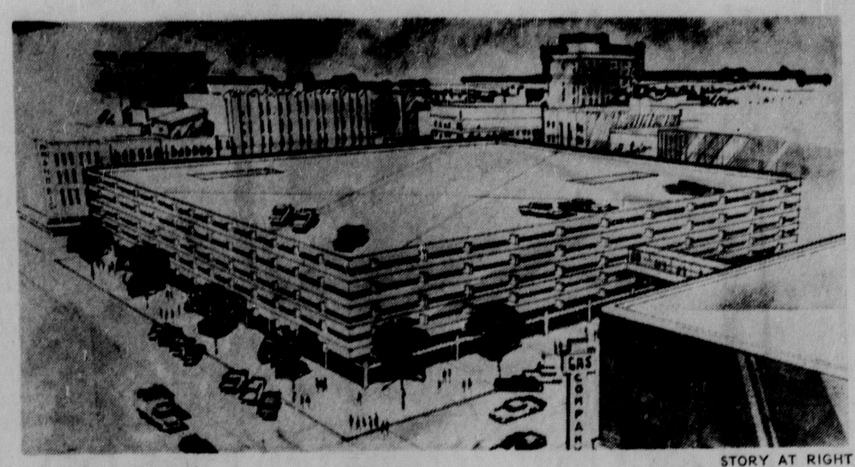

The attorney typified the state investigation as "bumbling and stumbling" and said "I don't blame them for having Mr. Van Steenberg to prosecute this case . . . some serious changes need to be made in law enforcement in Hall County."

As to the matter of insurance, Mitchell said that the agents on the stand had made it plain that Phyllis Davis was the one who asked the questions and had the knowledge about insurance. "Thank God both these people (Davis and Mrs. Davis) in spite of their stupidity, and what they did, had enough sense to think of their seven children," Mitchell said.

Mitchell nearly choked up a few minutes before his allotted time was over and sat down. After a short break he apologized to the jury for "getting too wrapped up" in the case.

'Never Bothered'

As a last point Mitchell noted that though the state had brought a Federal Bureau of Investigation man to testify that the blood on the car was Type A, it had never bothered to introduce evidence that Phyllis Davis had Type A blood.

STORY AT RIGHT

ARCHITECTURAL CONCEPT . . . of parking area, shopping center.

Parking Lot Planned For Downtown Block

An entire square block of Lincoln's downtown area may soon be transformed into a 1,000-car self-park garage atop a two-level shopping center with overhead bridge walks to adjacent blocks.

The plans, the most dramatic to date of the Lincoln Center Development Association (LCDA), call for razing the entire block between N and O and 11th and 12th Sts., the association's president, John Campbell, said Thursday.

The multi-million dollar project could be completed in early 1971, said Campbell, and would be financed by city-issued revenue bonds to be retired from parking receipts and retail rentals derived from the project.

No general tax funds would be used in connection with the project, he said.

LCDA officials said the city would be requested to undertake the project through LB579, a 1967 legislative measure which allows any primary city in the state to use parking meter funds and revenue bonds to "own, purchase, construct, equip, lease, or operate off-street parking facilities for use of the general public.'

Campbell said he estimated that the present taxes on the property are less than $100,000.

The LCDA said the project would set the stage for other major downtown changes and noted that the overhead enclosed bridges across 11th and 12th Sts. — connecting the parking garage to the adjacent east and west blocks — would be the first links in a total overhead walkway program.

Campbell said the LCDA would request that present tenants of property on the block be assured of first choice of space when the new facility is completed.

The City Council would also be asked to allocate a portion of the revenues in excess of the operating costs and debt service to payments in lieu of taxes to the county and city school districts.

The projected size of the building includes nearly one-third million square feet of parking space and some 87,000 square feet of retail space.

Parking rates would be slightly higher than the highest competitive parking facility because of the choice location, LCDA officials said.

Housing Unit Eyes Pact Extension

The Lincoln Housing Authority Thursday voted to explore the feasibility of extending its operation and maintenance contract with the Air Force at the air base housing area.

Housing Authority Manager Joe Clark said the Air Force had requested information on whether the Housing Authority would be interested in extending the contract beyond the June 30 expiration date.

Kenneth King, chairman of the Housing Authority, said the Air Force is interested in the contract extension since the future ownership of the air base housing area may not be settled by June 30.

The General Services Administration (GSA) of the federal government is in the process of selling the housing area.

Housing Authority commissioners agreed they would consider a contract extension to accommodate the Air Force and fulfill the responsibility the authority has to the city in maintaining the area should the Housing Authority be unable to purchase the area.

The Housing Authority commissioners were told Thursday by King that the GSA had turned down the authority's offers for purchase of the housing area.

The Lincoln Housing Authority entered into a three-year management and maintenance contract with the Air Force on Sept. 1, 1966. The fiscal year for the government, though, ends on June 30.

Questions Raised

Mrs. Carole Siegman, human resources chairman of the League of Women Voters, raised questions Thursday about priorities in the authority's housing families through the rent assistance program and about the proposed housing development at 23rd and Y Sts.

Mrs. Siegman asked why more apartment units at the new development were not being made available to low-income families with large numbers of children.

"The number of three-bedroom apartments should be greater," she suggested.

Mrs. Siegman also said she questioned providing housing units to married university students.

Feasible Plan

King replied that the present arrangement of apartment sizes was made to have the development economically feasible for the insurance companies financing the project.

The chairman said also that past experiences by other cities indicated grouping low-income families with large numbers of children into public housing projects has not worked out well.

GSA Rejects City's Housing Offer

Swearingen said the Air Force people want to purchase the property because they have lived in the air base housing and want to make sure the property is kept up as a "first-class" residential area.

He said the group he represents plans to upgrade the property and make it available to the Housing Authority under the rent-lease program.

First Chance

Swearingen said the authority would have the first opportunity to make use of the housing in providing homes for low-income people. He indicated, though, that all present tenants would not be evicted.

"By developing the housing area, the group felt that a good many lower-income people would have much better housing. It would also compensate for some of the people displaced by the northeast diagonal construction and land acquisition project of the University of Nebraska," he said.

He said the group further feels that the Lincoln Housing Authority could not exercise the necessary control and, as a consequence, the possibilities of a slum area developing would be much greater than under private enterprise.

"We felt that private enterprise can do the job better and more economical, and that with private enterprise doing the job, the Lincoln taxpayer will not be obligated for further taxes, Swearingen said.

He said that should the group he represents be successful in purchasing the property, the units would be retained intact as rental property, and not sold.

City Council members last month expressed concern that purchase of the housing by private interests could result in flooding of the local market.

Swearingen emphasized the property would be paid for and maintained without cost to the taxpayer and that the housing area would likely be deeded to the city once the Air Force group has met the costs incurred.

Parker said if all bids are below the appraisal value, the property would be put up for bids a second time.

He said GSA will likely place ads in area newspapers, the Wall Street Journal and send information on the property to potential buyers on a list the GSA keeps on file.

Summary of Conditions

The latest surface map shows a low centered over east central Minnesota moving to northwestern Illinois by Friday noon. A high over Idaho is expected to move only slightly southeastward and a high over Oklahoma should dissipate during the next 12 hours.

Skies will be generally partly cloudy Friday and Saturday with a little more cloudiness in western Iowa Friday. No precipitation of consequence is expected. Temperatures will remain well below normal during the forecast period.

Extended Forecasts

NEBRASKA: Temperatures for the five-day period, Saturday through Wednesday, are forecast to average near normal with a slow warming trend through Tuesday. Normal highs are 45 to 50 while normal lows are 22 in the north central to 29 in the southeast. Precipitation is forecast to average .10 of an inch or less occurring as rain or snow Monday or Tuesday.

KANSAS: For the five-day period, Saturday through Wednesday, temperatures are forecast to average near normal in the north and 3 to 6 degrees below normal in the south with a slow warming trend through Tuesday. Normal highs are 50 in the northwest to 58 in the southeast. Normal lows are 22 in the northwest to 35 in the southeast. Precipitation is forecast to average about 10 of an inch or less occurring as rain or snow Monday or Tuesday.

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

It should be to the concern of many that two prominent state senators have agreed on a plan for enactment of a 1 per cent sales tax for the sole benefit of cities and counties. The proposal was made by Sen. Jules Burbach and endorsed by Sen. Terry Carpenter. That should give it a firm place in line for consideration by the entire Legislature.

It may not prevail but it is hard to say at this point what kind of financial package the state will settle on for 1969-71. The above proposal would hike the current 2 per cent sales tax rate to 3 per cent and the income from one-third of the total earmarked for return to cities and counties.

It is hoped that senators turn the measure down flat. We are not opposed to increased aid to cities and counties but the sales tax route is not the most equitable approach.

If state taxes are to go up, it is hoped that the income tax is given first consideration. We have not opposed a 2½ per cent sales tax and still find it acceptable from a practical point of view, but the Burbach and Carpenter proposal leaves things wide open for an unlimited sales tax.

If their proposal carries, where is the state going to get the money for its own increase in spending? Will we add another hike to the sales tax and make it 3½ per cent or maybe go all the way to a nice even figure like 4 per cent?

We have said it so many times that it is beginning to sound like a broken record but the sales tax falls most heavily on those least able to afford it. Small income groups pay a tax on all their earnings under the sales tax because they spend everything they make on goods.

Higher income groups, however, spend more of their money on services and divert other parts of it into savings, etc. The high income groups do not pay on all their income under a sales tax.

★

There are evils in the income tax, too, because it is based on the federal law and that federal law is full of loopholes. Billions of dollars a year that should be taxed by Uncle Sam are escaping taxation under perfectly legal dodges.

But even the highly imperfect income tax we have is more equitable than the sales tax. The income tax is still progressive while the sales tax is regressive.

As a third choice, senators could consider a tax on services. This has a number of disadvantages such as additional administrative costs and difficulty of enforcement, but it would be preferred to any drastic hike in the sales tax.

The tax on services would fall more heavily upon higher income groups with the ability to pay it because more money is spent on services at that income level. If senators are in doubt as to the validity of such conclusions as these, they owe it to the people to find out the facts for themselves.

Senators also should use caution in the matter of state aid to local units of government. It is correctly said that many local units of government are up against it financially.

The reason they are up against it is that local citizens will not approve of additional tax expenditures. This may not be a very far-sighted public attitude but the state should use some restraint in circumventing local rights.

There is already in the legislative hopper a substantial number of bills to take away local initiative, including the elimination of local mill levy limits and the abolition of requirements for a pubic vote on urban renewal.

The earmarking of a 1 per cent sales tax for local government aid is just sticking the knife too far into the back of people who cannot afford such a blow.

'There's Nothing For You To See'

Renewal Tools

An incentive for businessmen to help local governments improve commercial areas has been offered by the Internal Revenue Service. And in Lincoln, ou going City Councilman Carroll Thompson is plugging for legislation permitting cities to create authorities for limited urban renewal projects with the thought that local money, rather than federal money, should be used to finance such projects.

What could be a big boost to downtown merchants is reported in the Wall Street Journal. As noted, the IRS advised it would permit merchants to deduct voluntary payments to the city to help develop public parking facilities near their businesses.

The IRS promised similar treatment where merchants chipped in to remake a street. For example, plans that would include ceramic tile sidewalks, a cobblestoned mall and continuous canopies. The city would own and maintain all the improvements. Such an incentive might be taken advantage of in Lincoln as a means to accelerate the development of needed parking facilities and in going forward with the renovation projects talked of in Lincoln's commercial districts for many years.

Thompson is supporting LB190 — which if passed with certain amendments by the Legislature would permit limited urban renewal for all Nebraska municipalities — on the basis that it would serve as a tool to attempt "locally financed and directed programs of urban renewal in Lincoln," without a vote of the people.

He urges that the same power that permits government to condemn land for a federally-approved urban renewal project should be used for private development. The councilman points out that under the bill, the urban renewal authority could condemn, if necessary, and purchase land and resell it to private interests for development with local funds.

Thompson could just be telling some people in Lincoln — who see a federal bogeyman every time urban renewal is mentioned — to put their money where their mouths are. "It's time," he says, "that cities like Lincoln start using their own resources to solve their problems."

Fine Ends, Weak Means

In sending LB601 and LB603 to the floor of the Legislature, the Public Health and Welfare Committee took a well meant but incorrect action. LB601 would establish a separate institution for young juvenile offenders in the Lincoln-Omaha area. LB603 would establish a separate division of juvenile deliquency within the Department of Institutions.

Both measures have a certain potential but both ignore the basic problem that has forever existed in this area of public concern. That basic problem is a lack of sufficient financial support for the institutions and programs that now exist in the state.

It would seem far more advisable to us that the Legislature put its money into programs already on the books rather than adding to the physical plant and administrative structure we already have. If current facilities for the young juvenile offender are inadequate, it is because the Legislature has been too tight-fisted with the money in the past.

The state could much more profitably put its money into such things as an expanded foster home program, improved parole programs throughout the state and a better physical plant and staff at such places as the Boys Training School at Kearney, the Girls Training School at Geneva, Whitehall Home for Children in Lincoln and others.

With LB601 and LB603, senators will simply add to the list of financially starved operations in state government.

Centennial Events

Lincoln, Neb.

On behalf of the Centennial Committee, I want to express our genuine appreciation for the fine coverage being given by The Lincoln Star to the university's 100th birthday.

We have scheduled for the future an additional series of events and personalities. These include, among others, the prospective publication of Volume I of the "Centennial History" about mid-April; the special appearance of Miss Judith Anderson to give a series of readings at the Centennial Honors Convocation, April 22; the challenging three-day discussion of "Nebraska in the 1970's" which will bring together Nebraska leadership from all over the state, May 22, 23 and 24 at the Kellogg Center; and the Centennial Commencement on May 31. These all promise to be of particular interest.

'In White America'

Lincoln, Neb.

Saturday night we were deeply moved by the presentation of "In White America" by the Backstage Club of the Lincoln Community Playhouse.

It was a community presentation by a fine black and white cast in an effort to promote greater racial empathy. Not only was its purpose commendable — it was exciting, crackin' good theater. We were moved and inspired. We enjoyed it.

If it is to be presented, we understand, throughout the high schools in this area and at churches and conventions within the next few weeks. Our thanks are extended to this cast and staff for devoting themselves to this project and its continuance on a strictly volunteer basis.

Gasoline Prices

Lincoln, Neb.

Within the past few days I have purchased gasoline from three different service stations that did not display their prices, and I paid a different price for the same grade of gasoline from each of the three stations.

It is apparent that these stations believe, as Barnum did, "There is a sucker born every minute."

Well, not me — from now on I buy gasoline only from a station where the price is displayed and my business is appreciated.

No Compromise

Wayne, Neb.

A policeman notices a man mercilessly beating a child, runs over to them and politely asks the man to stop. The law-breaker pays no attention so the policeman asks in a louder but still friendly voice if they could "talk this thing over as rational human beings." Of course this doesn't deter the child-beater, so finally the officer grabs the man's arm. The criminal indignantly strikes the policeman and screams, "Listen, man, do you want to talk this over or not? If so, you'd better cut it out!" The officer meekly allows him to go on with his flogging while they try to work out a suitable compromise.

If we were to witness such an incident, we would rightfully be alarmed. Yet this same situation exists today in the larger proportion and is accepted. I refer to the United States' treatment of communism, generally, and specifically her taking part in the Paris peace talks.

When will the United States learn that it is preposterous to ask someone who lives by force to "talk it over"? The communists' aim to convert (coerce) the world to their ideology is something every American learns before he is out of elementary, yet our policy-makers fail to take this into account. If the communists think that playing little games in Paris will facilitate their end, of course they will go along but never agree to give an inch.

The American government, like the policeman in the example, is a blatant moral coward. The government represents me and I resent the implication that I accept communism, as I know others must. It is time that Americans speak up not only against this senseless waste of time and money but against the danger we are being placed in by our government, trying to compromise with criminals.

The Comeback Of Defeated Nations

TOKYO — Both the defeated nations, Germany and Japan, are riding a high tide of economic triumph. The Japanese miracle is even more impressive than the much-heralded German miracle. While Britain and France struggle with a grave currency crisis, the yen and the German mark have a granite solidity in the markets of the world.

The triumph was achieved in both countries with a massive infusion of American aid. Once restored, it was believed, Germany and Japan would be America's allies in the struggle against Communism — Germany as a barrier in Eastern Europe, Japan as an offset to Communist China.

Looking enviously at the miracle of victory out of defeat, there are Americans today who feel the restoration went much too fast and too far. They see Japan and Germany offering competition hard to meet. And those who cling to the illusion of containment sputter indignantly as trade figures show both nations doing an ever-increasing business with the communist bloc, including Red China.

☆ ☆ ☆

Steel is a prime example. Intensive bombing of Japan flattened virtually all the nation's steel plants. Those built since 1945 have a much higher level of the new and most economical techniques than does the Amrican steel industry. That is one reason Japan can invade the American market so successfully that "voluntary" quotas on steel exports to the United States have been applied to try to forestall restrictions imposed by Congress.

It's just plain outrageous. These people who 24 years ago were down and out have what apparently America cannot afford. They have high-speed trains that run at an average of a hundred miles an hour for the 300 miles, equivalent to the Boston-Washington run, from Tokyo to Osaka. They are superbly designed, immaculate, rarely more than a few minutes off schedule.

In both Germany and Japan, spending on so-called defense, measured by the share of the gross national product going into weapons, is only a small fraction of what it is in the United States. That means more money for the general welfare. It means industry can spend more on research for the consumer as against weapons research.

Broad hints are beginning to come from highly placed Americans that both nations should step up their defense spending. This, however, carries with it a risk.

It is the revival of the militarism that sent these two powerful peoples charging out to conquer the world. That may seem ludicrous in light of Japan's tiny self-defense force and Germany's ground troops, which bear little resemblance to the highly trained army that overran Europe. But the hawkish remarks being made by retired Gen. Minoru Genda, one of the planners of the Pearl Harbor attack, during his American lecture tour show that militarism is not dead, despite the guarantees of pacifism in the Japanese constitution.

What officials in Washington find hard to understand is that the two nations, with their high continuing prosperity, do not come forward to give a bigger lift to the developing nations. Germany is a junior partner in the consortium providing broad economic help for India and Pakistan. Individual companies in Japan are active in financing and promoting advanced industry and technology in the developing world. Yet the total amount — the percentage of GNP going into this channel — is far below the potential for two such affluent powers.

Their failure to take the leadership is more conspicuous against the background of America's own troubles. The balance-of-payments problem and the increasing resistance to foreign aid in Congress and the country are big roadblocks in the way of continuing the American program of help to countries trying to achieve economic growth and a higher standard of living.

Gratitude is perhaps the rarest commodity in international relations. Yet Americans are beginning to ask why, when we gave so generously, are they now not helping others.

DREW PEARSON

Mr. Nixon Learning President's Lesson

WASHINGTON — It has now been more than four months since his election, and approximately two months since Mr. Nixon became president, and still no peace plan for Vietnam has been revealed.

While the American public is generally tolerant of a new president and willing to give him time to make good on campaign promises, there is one basic fact which experienced diplomats say Mr. Nixon must learn.

This is that international crises will not wait.

Specifically, events have not stood still in the Near East, where a new war could break out any moment.

Events in Southeast Asia have become much less conducive to peace.

First, the North Vietnamese obviously are doing what the United States previously did — stepping up their military operation in order to negotiate from strength.

Second, the bitter controversy between Russia and Red China has weakened Russian influence in North Vietnam, where Moscow used its influence previously on the side of the United States.

Finally, here at home, draft calls in the universities are due to escalate about 500 per cent soon.

Rapidly moving events in the Near East could make life even more difficult for Mr. Nixon.

First, President Nasser has turned down the bid, discreetly and unofficially tendered by former Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, to resume diplomatic relations between Egypt and the United States. The State Department is not advertising this cold shoulder.

Second, the recent bombardment along the Suez Canal is a direct Egyptian violation of a stern order by Russia not to provoke the Israelis. This means that either the Russians lifted their ban in order to goad Mr. Nixon; or else the Egyptians have decided to give their Russian allies the back of their hand.

Either is serious, and could result in another real war between the Israelis and the Arabs.

It was Mr. Nixon himself, in his first press conference, who called attention to the serious consequences of such a conflict. It could explode into World War III.

On Dec. 30 the Russians delivered a formal note to the United States outlining peace proposals for the Near East. They gave negotiable terms. But the United States has made no move to negotiate.

Three weeks delay was understandable in order to give Mr. Nixon time to take over. But the delay has extended beyond this to almost 12 weeks, and during those 12 weeks passions have become more bitter, events more menacing.

TOM WICKER

President Advised By Israeli Representative To Follow 'Do-Nothing' Course On Mid-East

WASHINGTON — Doing nothing, when it comes to choosing courses of high policy, actually is doing something. And it is that kind of "nothing" that Israel's foreign minister Abba Eban, will counsel President Nixon to do in their conversation at the White House.

The President said at his first news conference, on Jan. 31, that "new initiatives and new leadership" by the United States were needed "to cool off the situation in the Mid-East." The Israelis do not accept that analysis, because they do not agree with the underlying reasoning — that the Middle East is, in Nixon's words, "a powder keg" that needs to be "defused" because "the next explosion in the Mid-East, I think, could involve very well a confrontation between the nuclear powers."

Apparently acting on this view, Nixon has agreed to the French proposal for "four-power talks" on the Middle East, if such talks prove to be warranted by a preliminary series of bilateral talks among the four so-called powers — particularly the U.S. and the Soviet Union. The Arab-Israeli conflict also was discussed on Nixon's European tour, most searchingly with French President Charles de Gaulle.

Since American talks with the Soviet ambassador also had been "encouraging," he said, "four-power discussions at the United Nations" appeared likely — although he warned that no settlement could be imposed from without on the Middle Eastern nations.

The Israelis, undistracted even by the death of Premier Levi Eshkol and the accession of Mrs. Golda Meir from their hypersensitive concern with national security, have been watching all this warily. For one thing, while it may be true that settlements can't be "imposed," they know that one put forward by the four powers and backed by a major power guarantee would put immense pressure on them to agree; and for another thing, their experience with such guarantees has been disillusioning (nor is the reluctance of the Senate and its foreign relations committee to approve any more "foreign commitments" unknown in Tel Aviv).

Moreover, Nixon's comments about "progress" came after his conversations with the Soviets, the Arabs' prime ally, and with De Gaulle, who is no longer Israel's friend. This suggests to the Israelis that Nixon's prediction of a "four-power recommendation for proceeding" that might "bring both sides to a conference table" envisions an Israeli withdrawal from captured Arab territories in return for Arab participation in peace talks. The view that Eban will put to the President is that this would be exactly the wrong way both to avert war and to move toward a settlement.

Despite attacks on airports, the Iraqi hangings, and bombardments across Suez, the Israelis do not believe the "powder keg" thesis that general war is ready to erupt in the Middle East; they think that while President Gamal Abdul Nasser of Egypt may have had his armed forces rebuilt since the 1967 war, the occupation has greatly reduced his strategic position, and that he has neither the stomach for another round nor confidence that he could win it. Nevertheless, he is under powerful internal pressure to recover lost territories.

If these territories are handed back by world diplomatic pressure, for instance, by a "four-power recommendation," the Israeli view is that the internal pressure on Nasser would be eased, both his strategic military position and leadership would be enhanced, and his Soviet backers would be vindicated in Arab eyes — all of which would reduce the necessity for him to negotiate in good faith with Israel, and would revive the threat of war.

But if the Israelis retained the captured territories, they believe that Nasser — unable and unwilling to make war — would either be forced out of office or driven to tell the Arab populace that their lost lands could only be recovered through peace negotiations with Israel (a resounding defeat for both his and Soviet policy).

The status quo or a negotiated peace — in the raw and dangerous power politics of the Middle East, that is the only choice the Israelis want to give Nasser.

SAFEGUARDING YOUR TEEN-AGER AGAINST DRUGS . . .

Students Explain Reactions To Drugs

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series by a prize winning science writer who provides parents with background on the narcotics and drug situation and suggests ways for them to help guard their children against its ill effects.)

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

To cope intelligently with drug problems, one needs to know more about what kinds of appeals drugs offer.

Here are some of the ways that college students have described their reactions to "mind" drugs:

"I could lose all my worries and imagine many things."

"The mind is magnificently delighted by very simple situations or memoirs."

Drugs "are our only means of feeling love (in the general, perhaps Christian, sense) in this debacle of self-destruction. It is a return to Eden."

"I have stopped taking drugs . . . It became too easy to 'groove' on something . . . without ever coming to terms with real problems, without ever really thinking. The borders of illusion and reality become hazy . . ."

"I consider it now a part of the growing up process. It was an answer. It no longer is. I am still overwhelmed by the madness that is my country, but I must find another way of coming to terms with it."

Students' Answers

These answers came from students asked, in an anonymous questionnaire, why they had used or might still be using drugs such as marijuana and LSD.

For some unknown percentage of drug users, "it is a way of hitting back at parents, to shock them, loosen them up a bit," says a West Coast college student. "Taking drugs marks an external rejection of middle class values and society in general. The 'beat generation' tried to shock the middle class with its actions and words. Now it is with drugs."

A psychiatrist agrees that for some young people, including high schoolers, "it is fun to see their parents get put on. With drugs, they have something with which to get their parents enraged and incensed. The kids can send their parents into spasms. Taking drugs is one way of tweaking the old man's nose."

Some users say they find an occasional stick of marijuana a pleasant way of dealing with mild depressions, of winning brief release from demands of school work, or combatting feelings of being hemmed in or frustrated.

Escape From Boredom

Marijuana, LSD and other drugs, users assert, also can offer escape from boredom, the complaint that "there is nothing to do," even in the midst of plenty and affluence, or perhaps because of boredom with that affluence. "The world seems dull lots of times; we're over titillated," a student remarks.

Dr. Keniston, the Yale psychologist, puts it another way — a person can become "psychologically numb," overwhelmed by all the stimuli and pressures around him, the demands on his attention. He puts up a screen to ignore it all.

But this self-erected screen "may become so dense that it isolates him as well from direct experience with the simple, the beautiful, the unexpected in the world around him," says Dr. Helen Nowlis, University of Rochester psychologist.

From questioning youths, Dr. Mitchell Balter of the National Institute of Mental Health estimates that about one-third of those who use drugs experiment with them for kicks, another third out of curiosity, and one-third because they seek or hope for insights into themselves, or to feel or be more creative.

Beyond Abundance

This generation "as the first truly affluent generation is beginning to ask what lies beyond abundance, beginning to search for a definition of the Good Life that transcends two cars in the garage, a respectable job, and a good health and pension plan," Dr. Keniston remarks.

A majority of marijuana users say they find it satisfying, relaxing, or that their experiences with it are interesting or illuminating. Some youths compare marijuana with their own parents' drinking of bootleg whisky during Prohibition.

Marijuana proponents say it is safe, and it may be so for most, on the basis of their own personal experiences to date. Students who know that friends are smoking marijuana and haven't flipped out or are still making good grades may be tempted to try it themselves.

Opinions vary as to what effects hallucinogenic drugs have on sexual response. In general, it appears that these drugs "do not seem to either stimulate or diminish sexual drive," says one medical report.

The appeal of LSD, say various users, is that it brings a much more heightened if distorted perception, one that promises deeper insights into the inner world of feeling and consciousness. Some call it "instant analysis" of one's self, or "instant paradise."

The appeal of amphetamines and barbiturates is simpler and more direct—to become stimulated or to become calmed down, or to swing from extremes by using both kinds of drugs, or sometimes just to experience a dream world.

For the underprivileged especially, the hard drugs like heroin become a means of blotting out emotional pain when there is no place to go.

Annual Hunt For Teachers Appears About Half Finished

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln's annual hunt for new public school teachers and administrators is about half finished, although the actual number of positions open for next year has not been determined.

Personnel office staff, some principals and other administrators have been absent from the district on recruiting trips almost constantly since early February.

Applications for what is estimated will be about 200 openings are "running ahead of this time last year," reported Personnel Director Dr. Carroll Sawin.

Some 650 applications have been received to date. Last year the district had 989 applications for 228 jobs.

New Positions

New administrative positions that are expected to be filled for the first time include a director of staff development and an administrative assistant in the office of the associate superintendent for instruction, a planning and evaluation assistant in the superintendent's office and a math consultant.

Other administrative posts that are tentatively open for 1969-70 are supervisors of nurses and student employment, a school psychologist-supervisor of guidance services and principals for Pershing, Beattie and Arnold elementary schools.

The Board of Education budgeted $4,000 for prospective employes expense for this year which will finance publication of recruiting literature and recruiting trips.

Print Booklet

The school district prints a booklet on "Capital Teaching," which is sent to prospective employes, plus posters and other literature for placement bureaus. Advertising of Lincoln positions, except for those where critical shortages exist, is usually limited to free opportunities, according to Sawin.

Several of the younger principals, assistant principals and central office administrators participate in the teacher recruiting, accompanying personnel office staff and interviewing candidates, Sawin explained.

Nearly 30 college campuses in Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, South Dakota and Colorado are on the Lincoln district's recruiting circuit.

A salary schedule "competitive with other midwestern communities of comparable size," opportunities for partnership in decision-making, a low turnover rate of 14% compared to 20% nationally, and the progressive educational program are points featured in contacts with prospective employes, it was noted.

Recruiters also capitalize on the "fine reputation" of the school system and city as well as the advantage of having a graduate school in the same town, according to Sawin.

Candidates do not talk much about fringe benefits but are interested in assignments, assistance at the beginning and kinds of curriculum used and support of the school board, he said.

The personnel director said if potential candidates are "midwestern oriented, we have a chance with them."

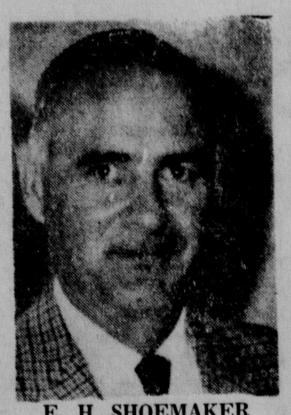

"Lincoln just hasn't got the word out even in the Midwest that this is a large metropolitan area," he declared. "I am constantly amazed at the concept people have of Lincoln."

Attitudes

Lincoln recruiters are interested in the candidates' "attitude about kids and about themselves. We want to know about their goals and objectives, whether they seem to have an open mind and appear aggressive," Sawin explained.

The school district tries to hire some persons from minority races "if they are the best candidates," Sawin said. "But it is difficult to attract Negroes to Lincoln" because of the small Negro population and the "tremendous demand nationwide" for good Negro teachers.

Even though Lincoln receives nearly four times as many applications as positions available, Sawin believes that it is important to recruit to "get a variety of philosophies, teaching backgrounds and teaching methods."

E. H. SHOEMAKER

Stockmen's Deductions Advocated

. . . By Nebraskan

Lincoln Star Special

Washington — E. H. Shoemaker of North Platte, Neb., headed a delegation from the American National Cattlemen's Association that testified here before the House Ways and Means Committee on farm loss income deductions.

Shoemaker, joined by other ranchers, claimed that proposals now before the House and Senate not to allow deductions against non-farm income "would greatly restrict or deny the farming loss deduction a legitimate farmer or rancher could use in calculating his federal income taxes."

Shoemaker said, "the livestock industry has been provided with tax rules which are necessary because of the unique nature of our business, and to equalize our tax treatment with other taxpayers."

He said the livestock producer should not be singled out for discrimination.

"Capital gains is available to all taxpayers, depreciation is a legitimate deduction used by other businessmen and costs of maintaining business property are deductible by all taxpayers," said Shoemaker.

'Unjust Restriction'

Shoemaker said proposed legislation now before Congress would be an unjust restriction placed on the farm or ranch family that depends on outside income to offset losses that are incurred from the operation of a farm or ranch.

Marian Anderson, NU Symphony 'Outstanding'

By RUTH ARDIS

Marian Anderson and the University of Nebraska Symphony Orchestra presented an outstanding Centennial Concert Thursday evening at the Nebraska Union.

It was a sentimental evening for the standing-room-only audience who had come to pay tribute to one of the most-beloved singers of our day. Before her retirement from her singing career in 1965, Miss Anderson had appeared in recital halls all over the world.

In the past few years, she has served as a U.S. delegate to the United Nations and has worked for the advancement of the arts and human relations.

'Lincoln Portrait'

Miss Anderson's narration of Aaron Copland's "Lincoln Portrait" was a combination of the simplicity, warmth, and exquisite taste which characterized her vocal performances.

Conductor Emanuel Wishnow and the orchestra also gave an inspired performance of Copland's musical portrait.

The text is set off cleanly, and the interplay between speaker and orchestra produces some striking dramatic effects.

The orchestral writing, in the composer's "Americana" style, projects both the somberness and simplicity of Lincoln and the dramatic impact of the times in which he lived.

Appropriate

Dvorak's "New World" Symphony was most appropriate for the Centennial Concert, for Nebraskans have always felt a strong kinship to Dvorak because of their Czech heritage and his residency in Iowa just before the turn of the century.

The broad sweep of this heroic work was well interpreted.

The exuberance of the players and the vitality of the performance as a whole compensated for the lack of precision in the Scherzo.

Excellent Vehicle

The richness of the harmonic structure of Purcell's "Chacony for Strings" provided an excellent vehicle for the sumptuous sound of the string section. The dynamic shadings were especially effective in this 17th Century work.

Barber's "First Essay for Orchestra" and the Berceuse and Finale from "The Firebird" by Stravinsky completed the concert. They were given competent interpretations which showed again how well the orchestra sounds this season.

Miss Anderson, Conductor Wishnow and the orchestra were given a prolonged ovation at the conclusion of the concert.

LEA Offers Compromise On Salary Schedule Step

Lincoln Education Association negotiators Thursday night offered to delete one intermediate step from the teachers' bachelor's degree salary schedule request if the Board of Education would agree to add one of the requested intermediate steps.

The negotiators made the proposal at the beginning of the third LEA-board negotiating session.

The board's negotiating team agreed to consider the proposal, but only in the context of the total proposal.

The LEA's conditioned offer was the only change of position by either side presented Thursday night.

At one point both sides talked about a $6,600 minimum, without attaching the sum to any salary format. However, that discussion was not continued.

The board's team defended its base salary proposal of $6,200, up from the 1967-68 base of $6,000, and LEA negotiators presented a justification for their $7,000 base request.

Declaring that they would not discuss any other items until the salary schedule is settled, the LEA team called for the total amount of money which the board intends to pay in additional salaries next year.

Without having such a figure, the LEA would insist on continuing discussions about the salary schedule format, it was stated.

Supt. John Prasch, who is charing the sessions, indicated in his concluding summary — the only information released to the press — that the session generally consisted of continued discussion, arguments and no agreement.

Legislation To Stiffen New Political Party Requirements Advances

Legislation which would increase the requirements for forming a new political party in the state by shifting from a convention to a petition system won 8-0 committee approval Thursday.

The bill, LB599, sponsored by Sen. Roland Luedtke of Lincoln, was opposed, in part, by a member of the Democratic state executive committee and an organizer of the now-defunct First District New Party.

The Government and Military Affairs Committee killed, on a 5-3 vote, a proposed constitutional amendment which would have changed the basis for legislative apportionment from population to the number of eligible electors.

Also killed was LB786, which would have required public bidding on the purchase or lease of any county road equipment costing more than $2,000.

The bill, also signed by Luedtke, died when the committee agreed to a motion killing the bill on a 5-2 count.

Sent to the floor was an amended version of LB554, which authorizes counties to contract without bid for purchases up to $10,000. The law now provides various contract ceilings for purchases without bid, generally at a $2,000 limit.

Both LB554 and the proposed constitutional amendment on apportionment contained in LB800 were sponsored by Sen. J. James Waldron of Callaway.

LB599 provides that new statewide parties must be formed by the petition method, with signatures numbering at least 1% of the state's voters.

Signatures would also need to be so distributed as to contain at last 1% of the voters in 19 counties.

Statewide parties may now be formed at conventions which gather at least 750 valid signatures. The 1% statewide requirement would total about 4,000 persons.

While the numbers are substantially increased, Luedtke said he does not believe the petition system would make it more difficult to form a new party.

The requirements are equitable, he said, and will prevent the creation of "paper parties."

George Wallace's supporters formed a statewide party, still recognized as such, last year, and the New Party organized itself within the First Congressional District.

The latter party had only 20 registered voters, Deputy Secretary of State Allen Beermann testified.

William Campbell of Lincoln, a Democratic state executive committee member, objected to strict new requirements which would provide for formation of a prty at least 90 days before the primary election. Present law permits formation 70 days before the general election.

Campbell also opposed the county distribution formula.

Edgar Pearlstein of Lincoln, an organizer of the New Party, said the bill will make it more difficult to organize a party — although he prefers a petition method.

"The two-party system should be retained by its responsiveness to the people, not by restrictive laws," he said.

Sukarno's Girl To Be Married

Jakarta, Indonesia (UPI) — Rachmawati Sukarno, daughter of the deposed Indonesian president, will marry Jakarta medical student Tommy Mardjuki on Friday, it was announced Thursday.

Liquor Dealers Discount Ban Advanced

By Associated Press

The Legislature Thursday gave first round approval to a controversial bill which would prohibit liquor wholesalers from offering discounts, free goods or other inducements to retailers.

The Unicameral galleries, heavy with small liquor retailers, burst into applause as the 32-7 approving vote was flashed on the voting board at the front of the chamber.

The outburst was gavelled down by Lt. Gov. John Everroad, who told the crowd there was "no need for a demonstration."

Opponents to Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter's LB151 had charged in debate that the bill would damage free enterprise and end up hurting small liquor retailers more than larger retailers.

Cited Inequities

Carpenter answered the charges by noting the inequities between the discounts offered large and small retailers.

"This bill has nothing to do with retail prices actually," he said. The bill would merely confirm what is already the State Liquor Control Commission's policy, he maintained.

Tacked on as an amendment was a provision which would subject violators of the proposed law to suspension or revocation of liquor licenses.

Sen. Robert Clark of Sidney said the bill was a necessary step toward keeping small businesses from being run out of business. A liquor salesmen himself at one time, he said he fully understood the small liquor retailer's plight.

'Under The Table'

Sen. Ramey Whitney of Chappell said he "can't see how this bill would keep money from passing under the table."

"The larger retailer can withstand the hurt the longest, and in the long run the little fellow would get hurt the most," he said.

A prohibition against the discounts would mean taking away "freedom of enterprise" from liquor dealers, he said.

Advanced from general file on a 36-0 vote was Elgin Sen. William Wylie's LB760, a measure to allow Nebraska hotels and motels to use nonpressed sheets and bedding of synthetic fabrics. The emergency clause was attached to the bill without dissent.

No-Iron Sheets

Sen. Herbert Duis of Gothenburg suggested that the Legislature nickname Wylie's measure "the no-iron sheet bill."

The Legislature also advanced 14 other bills Thursday, but balked, at least temporarily, at approving a bill sponsored by Sen. Fern Orme of Lincoln which would allow the State Board of Health to appoint a temporary, "acting director" of the State Health Department.

Sen. Carpenter asked that the bill, LB598, be held over and that Sen. Orme rework the measure to protect against the board appointing an "acting director" who might serve permanently.

"I don't see anything in the bill that says the acting director would only be temporary," he noted.

Bills advanced included Sen. Orme's companion measures, LB511 and LB512, dealing with state record keeping, the destruction of conflicting, erroneous records and powers of the State Records Board.

Workmen's Pay Bill Revival Nixed

The Legislature Thursday refused to revive for reconsideration a bill which would shorten the waiting period for injured employes entitled to workmen's compensation.

The bill, LB226, died on final reading last week on a 22-27 vote.

Sen. Harold Simpson's effort to win legislative reconsideration gained a 25-18 majority, but the motion required 30 affirmative votes.

LB226 would have shortened the waiting period from seven to three days, and provided compensation from the date of injury if disability continues for two weeks or more. The law now provides for compensation from date of injury if disability continues for six weeks.

Sen. John Knight of Lincoln offered to propose amendments changing the time periods to five days and four weeks if the bill were revived, and Simpson said he would accept such a compromise.

That would be fair and equitable to both employer and employe, Knight suggested.

Supporters of the bill said the reduced waiting period would comply with federal standards, and perhaps head off federal legislation preempting state laws.

Opponents said the bill would raise workmen's compensation insurance rates for employers.

"It had a fine burial," Sen. Robert Clark of Sidney said. "Let's leave it in its grave."

Stars To Perform

London (AP) — Margot Fonteyn and Rudolf Nureyev will dance the principal roles in a new Roland petit ballet, Pelleas et Melisande, the Royal Ballet announced. Tne premiere on March 26 at the Covent Garden opera house will mark Miss Fonteyn's 35th anniversary with the ballet company.

Interest Conflict Measure Held For Later Action

Sen. Rick Budd of Nebraska City Thursday won legislative approval to hold his conflict-of-interest bill in its present floor position for later consideration.

"I want to do a little more work on it," Budd explained.

The bill, LB75, was amended on the floor last week to provide that any person who brings a conflict-of-interest charge against a state government or public power district official or employe covered by the act is subject to imprisonment if the charge is found to be false.

Opponents of the amendment argued that the proviso, in effect, renders the bill inoperative.

Budd told newsmen following the action that he will seek to have the amendment changed.

Holmquist Is On Commission

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann Thursday appointed Sen. C. W. Holmquist of Oakland to the Nebraska Hall of Fame Commission.

Holmquist will fill out the unexpired term of the late Sen. Stanley Matzke of Milford to September, 1973.

The governor also named Norris Nielsen of Lincoln to the Governor's Commission for Employment of the Handicapped.

Urban Renewal Measure Amended And Advanced

Major urban renewal legislation Thursday won second round floor approval after the Unicameral accepted an amendment directing cities to adopt minimum standards housing ordinances by Jan. 1, 1970.

Lincoln does not now have such an ordinance.

The amendment, proposed by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, carries no penalty provisions if cities fail to act.

Lawmakers also adopted an amendment, offered by Sen. Henry Pedersen Jr., of Omaha, which gives the Omaha City Council an effective veto power over the Legislature's choice of a limited urban renewal project for that city.

The current bill, LB190, directs Omaha to undertake a limited project in South Omaha.

Pedersen's amendment would permit the City Council to nullify that directive if it acts within 15 days after the law becomes effective.

LB190 establishes the concept of limited urban renewal, proposes the specific Omaha project and empowers Lincoln to initiate a project of its own without a vote of the peple.

Unitarian Church Back Appraisal

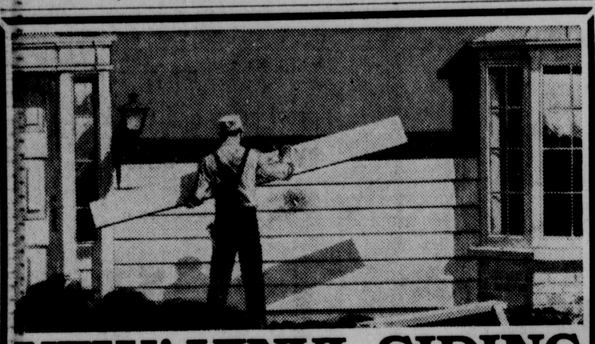

The board of trustees of the Unitarian Church of Lincoln has voted to support the enactment of LB26, a bill requiring county assessors to appraise all tax-exempt properties and calculate their value.

The church board said the public has a right to know the value and types of tax-exempt properties.

BRANDEIS BUDGET STORES DOWNSTAIRS

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

When we got up this morning, it was spring. A pair of robins were walking about looking for the early worm.

"The early bird gets the worm." But nobody ever talks about what the early worm gets. Stay slugabed, worm.

So to press with warm intentions.

☆ ☆ ☆

The Ides of March are upon us. And many a Caesar is impaled on a cocktail olive fork.

"Isn't it about time we had a cocktail party?" asked the household wren. No early bird. She lies late abed, thinking up things like that.

Once we just bought a gallon of muscatel and got a few people over. But now it's a full dress affair. We get a caterer and a man who mixes drinks. We get a doll who wanders around with a tray of small chow.

Cars have to be parked two blocks from the house. And everybody stands and stands and stands until their feet are killing them.

After the party, the hostess falls on the couch and says: "I think it went all right, don't you? Do you really think so?"

We worry about it all evening. Sometimes into the next day.

It's a success story.

☆ ☆ ☆

Ah, the winds of March! While skirts have been getting shorter, we've kept our eye on the back situation.

Fashion engineers are still working on a backless bra. Fashion people think ladies are wild to be uplifted in front with nothing showing in back.

This is like trying to saddle a horse without a cinch.

There's a fortune in it, though. I've been working on it. Something like iron-on tape. We could iron the bra onto the girl. Have to turn the iron to something cool. We don't want to brand her.

☆ ☆ ☆

"There is nothing more unattractive than to feel the back of a girl's bra while dancing with her," says a fashion designer. And there I wrote him off.

Who gets a hand on a chick with today's dances? A boy is lucky if he knows who he came with. I doubt if any young man today has felt the back of a bra.

It is all solo. He dances over here. She dances over there.

She could be waring a full field pack on her back. He would never know the difference.

☆ ☆ ☆

Pucci is the cat who put the knock on bras that hook up in the back. The fashionable Italian—(he designs those sexy stewardess things for Braniff)—called on the engineers of the world to do something about it.

If it succeeds—(and why not in this world of miracle fiber)—it will be an odd thing when boys and girls get to dancing together again. Arms around, cheek to cheek.

It will be a great surprise to young Claude when he gets a grip on the girl's back and—nothing.

No hooks. No straps. No shoulder holster. No cinch ring.

Will he feel better about it? I doubt it.

☆ ☆ ☆

Ladies clothing requires a lot of thought—if you like to think about those things. How is it a lady can hook up the bra in back, but cannot for the life of her zip herself into her dress?

"Would you zip me up the back?" says the lady.

Zip. "And hook it at the top," she says.

This is the heart of the matter, Claude. Attached to this $500 item—marked down to a bargain $399.99—there is a tiny little hook. It goes into a wisp of thread — if you can find it.

This triumph of Parisian designers is finally held together with a piece of engineering of less imagination than a kite string. By the time you get through the zip and hook, you're ready for the cocktail party.

Mosiman To Head License Examiners

State Motor Vehicles Director Emmett Dennis Jr. announced Thursday that Stewart H. Mosiman, 54, of Fairbury has been hired as chief examiner for the Department of Motor Vehicles.

Moisman, a clothing store operator since 1937, assumed the duties of the $565-a-month post Monday, succeeding Ed Grubbs, who recently resigned.

Mosiman will be chief supervisor of nearly 50 driver license examiners over the state.

Dennis also reported James F. Bishop, 27, of Omaha will join the department next Monday as chief of the financial responsibility division.

Bishop, an Air Force veteran and an Omaha University graduate, replaces Charles P. Kaufman, who resigned to accept a position with the State Employes Credit Union.

Also announced was the appointment of Mrs. Bernadette Mohatt of Lincoln to the position of administrative assistant to the director.

Mrs. Mohatt is a graduate of Central Business College in Denver, Colo., and was a faculty secretary at the University of Colorado.

Mrs. Bornholdt, Mrs. Tiemann's Mother, Is Dead

Wausa (AP) — Mrs. H. J. Bornholdt of Wausa died Wednesday at the Osmond General Hospital at the age of 70.

She was the mother of Mrs. Norbert T. Tiemann, wife of Nebraska's governor.

Funeral services will be at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in the Wausa Methodist church.

Manpower Plans To Be Reviewed

The State Committee of Cooperative Area Manpower Planning will meet Monday in Lincoln to review area manpower plans for the fiscal year 1970.

Committee Chairman Samuel J. Cornelius said Thursday that plans from all eight areas in the state will be reviewed and forwarded to regional coordinating committees.

The meeting will be held in the Department of Labor building at 9:30 a.m., Cornelius said.

Dismissal Of Injury Suit Appealed

A transcript was filed with the State Supreme Court Thursday in an appeal to the high court to reverse a Douglas County District Court dismissal of a $750,000 civil suit against the Omaha Public Power District (OPPD).

Mrs. Genevieve Connolley asked the amount for the injuries sustained by her son, Joseph, when he came in contact with an OPPD power line via a flag pole in 1965.

The power line passes above the Connolley property.

The district court had dismissed the case after OPPD attorneys asked for a directed verdict.

Steering Unit To Study Southeast Voc-Tech Plan

By DEAN TERRILL
Star Staff Writer

Beatrice — A vocational-technical school proposed for 10 southeast Nebraska counties gained a firmer footing here Thursday night at its second formal airing.

Petition and election procedures to create an area school were discussed, then referred to a steering committee for further analysis. Approximately 30 representatives attended from Gage, Jefferson, Nemaha, Otoe, Johnson and Richardson Counties.

One member from each county will serve on the committee to be headed by Stanley Woita of Beatrice. Thayer, Saline, Fillmore and Pawnee Counties did not send representatives to the latest meeting, but have expressed interest in the plan.

"A vocational educational school is a very important cog in the development of southeast Nebraska," said Woita. "We definitely have needs, both from the standpoint of students and industry."

Following up on an organizational meeting of Jan. 30, a smaller committee presented statistics pointing up the school's potential. The envisioned area, still tentative, has an assessed valuation of some 403 million — nearly three times the required minimum.

School enrollment last year totaled 27,556 in the area, said Beatrice Chamber of Commerce vice president Gary Carstens. Only 30% of these will complete college, it was pointed out, unless the education pattern changes.

Several persons expressed fear the Legislature will include all counties in some vocational districts. Woita said it would be preferable for "counties which are compatible" to choose their own boundaries.

There was some apprehension of individuals' committing their counties to the plan without further investigation. Under 1965 legislation, such districts are formed upon approval of the state Board of Education and a unit vote by the member counties.

Named to the committee were Dr. R. L. Cassel of Fairbury, Jefferson; Willis Sellhorn of Tecumseh, Johnson; M. N. Hughes of Humbolt, Richardson; George Otteman of Hebron, Thayer; Glenn Zajicek of Wilber, Saline; and Woita of Beatrice, Gage. Otoe, Nemaha, Fillmore and Pawnee Counties will announce their choices later.

At least four delegations are scheduled to make appearances before the Nebraska State Highway Advisory Commission Monday to urge road improvement projects, the meeting agenda showed Thursday.

Swimming Pool Rate Hikes OKd

New municipal swimming pool rates were approved by the City Parks and Recreation Advisory Board at its meeting Thursday.

In approving the rates, the board also added a third category of swimmers 20 years and older who will pay 75 cents for a single ticket and $8 for a season's pass of 13 swims.

The adult rate was 50 cents per swim or a ticket of 20 swims for $7.

The category of swimmers 12-19 years old will be charged 50 cents for a single swim and $8 for a ticket of 20 swims under the new rate.

The cost to children 11 years old and younger was increased from 20 cents to 25 cents for a single swim. The series swim ticket was also changed from 50 swims for $7 to 40 swims for $8.

The department took in $77,804 in revenue during 1968 at the municipal pools.

The board also voted in favor of increasing cemetery rates.

James Ager, director of the Department of Parks and Recreation, reported to the advisory board that the Fairview Cemetery has lost money during the last two years.

He said a survey of other cemeteries in Lincoln indicate charges are very low at the city cemetery.

The board approved an increase from $50 to $65 for grave opening and closing costs for adults and from $25 to $32.50 for infants.

Grave space rates were increased from $30-$40 to $50-$60 for adults and from $20 to $25 for infants.

Tunnel Fund Bill Held

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

A bill appropriating funds for construction of an underground tunnel between the State Capitol and the proposed state office building was held for study Thursday by the Legislature's Budget Committee.

Sen. Elvin Adamson's LB1017 would earmark an estimated unexpended balance of $2.8 million for the tunnel's construction and furnishings for the new building.

However, Sen. Fern Hubbard Orme, committee vice chairman, said an amendment tieing down a maximum amount for the tunnel's construction will be considered later.

Cost of the tunnel has been estimated at $700,000. Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann is opposed to the tunnel as a "waste of money," but Legislative leaders have said the Unicameral should make the final decision.

Also held was LB1001, that would permit state colleges and universities to use "surplus funds" in revenue bond accounts for construction of additional dormitory facilities.

Last year, Kearney State College proposed construction of a new dormitory from $948,000 "surplus" revenue bond funds, but was blocked by an attorney general's opinion citing a lack of statutory authority for such a move.

The bill was supported by the University of Nebraska and the four state colleges.

Sen. John Knight of Lincoln suggested the proposed legislation should be tightened to preclude the governing bodies of the schools from arbitrarily building up surplus funds in revenue bond accounts just to construct new facilities.

Also held was a bill that would appropriate $1 million annually for four years to the present $8 million State Veterans Aid Trust Fund.

Only earnings from the trust fund are used to aid indigent veterans.

Sen. J. W. Burbach of Crofton, a non-veteran and principal introducer of LB928, said Nebraska "has never had a state bonus, but this fund is used for needy veterans.

State Veterans Affairs Director James Smith said Nebraska has 155,000 veterans, and "increasing costs and caseload in veterans' assistance has made expenditures exceed earnings by $138,000 during this biennium, thus shrinking reserves."

The present $8 million fund was established in 1947.

Dr. John Walker To Join Faculty At Wesleyan U

Dr. John M. Walker of St. Louis, Mo. will join the Nebraska Wesleyan University faculty next fall as assistant professor and head of the department of philosophy.

His appointment was announced Thursday by Dr. Frederick Blumer, vice president for academic affairs.

Dr. Walker, a native of Chickasha, Okla., has been on the staff of the University of Missouri at St. Louis philosophy department.

His fields are aesthetics, metaphysics, and philosophy of religion.

Advisory Group Takes No Stand On Home Control

The Advisory Committee to the Departments of Welfare and Institutions took "no position" Thursday regarding the proposed transfer of the State Home for Children at Lincoln to the Institutions Department.

The Welfare Department presently supervises the Whitehall Home, but the Legislature's Budget Committee has proposed in LB1074 that it be transferred to institutions.

Committee Chairman Kara Eikleberry of Lincoln said the committee was "divided in its discussion" on the proposed transfer, and made no recommendation.

However, Mrs. Eikleberry said a recommendation may be made later by the committee.

Acting Welfare Director Robert McManus advised the committee that a "revised" departmental budget will be presented next week to the Legislature's Budget Committee, but no specific figures were discussed ahead of the presentation.

Prior to its regular meeting, the committee huddled in closed door session to discuss what was reported to be "personnel problems."

Terry Pleads For Tougher Unfair Sales Act

By The Associaed Press

Sen. Terry Carpenter pleaded with the Legislature's Miscellaneous Subjects Committee Thursday to stiffen Nebraska's unfair sales act and "keep people like myself from being run out of business."

The Scottsbluff businessman's importunings did not succeed in winning immediate committee approval for the bill at issue, however. A motion to send LB6 to the floor received a 4-0 vote with four committee members not voting. Five votes were needed to prevail.

Carpenter's LB6 increases from 6 to 10% the minimum markup required of Nebraska retailers covered by the act. But more importantly, it changes the law to require the markup on each item sold rather than on over-all sales averages.

Carpenter said the bill is designed to curb discount and chain stores from selling items below cost as "loss leaders."

"I haven't made five cents in my business in the last five years because I can't compete with these stores," he said.

Carpenter also pressed for approval of his LB14, a bill which has the chief effect of prohibiting a liquor distiller or beer brewer from charging a Nebraska wholesaler any more for his product than the lowest price charged a wholesaler in any other of the 50 states.

A motion to send LB14 to the floor received a 2-1 vote with five abstentions. A motion to kill drew a 3-2 vote, and the bill therefore remained in committee.

Variety Of Activity In Suburbia

With the state basketball tournament bringing people into Lincoln from all over Nebraska, we suspect that most of the activity for the next few days will be centered on the campus of the University of Nebraska. But for the benefit of those who would like to turn their attention from the hurly-burly world of sports for a few moments, we'd like to mention the fact that there are, and have been, other things going on: The astronauts are safely back on earth after their mission in space, and for the music fans, the only remaining bachelor Beatle was married Wednesday. And, as if that weren't enough, suburban residents have also been busy making news!

A pleasant visit was enjoyed by all last Thursday when Mrs. Elmo Meroney entertained a group of friends at her Trendwood home. This was no ordinary cross-town visit however, because the four ladies who had lunch with Mrs. Meroney drove all the way from Topeka, Kan. for the get-together. The guests included Mrs. Kenneth Cowan, Mrs. Earl McDavid, Mrs. W. O. Stark and Mrs. Bob Speake; Mrs. Meroney tells us that the visit could have gone on endlessly —except for the fact that the visitors had to return to Kansas in time to prepare dinner for their families!

Making plans for a weekend trip are Southwood residents Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Warner and children, Vincent and Angela, who will be traveling to Kansas for a brief stay. On Saturday afternoon, the Warner family will attend the marriage of Mrs. Warner's cousin, Miss Feryl Dyck and Chester Russell, Jr., which will take place in McPherson.

The Warners are also planning a visit with Mrs. Warner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Friesen in Hillsborough.

Residents of the South Hills neighborhood are becoming old hands at saying "good-bye" to departing residents, a task which is not one of the most pleasant. But, if farewells have to be said, the best way to do it, as many have discovered, is at a neighborhood get-together. Hostessing just such an event on Wednesday was Mrs. James Carlin who entertained 12 guests at a farewell courtesy for Mrs. Ed Wickenhauser. Actually however, this farewell was not one of the more permanent variety since Mr. and Mrs. Wickenhauser and daughter, Linda, have just moved across town — from 1820 Sunnyhill Rd. to the Trendridge Apartments.

Busy getting ready for a move at the end of this month are Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Pierce, who will be moving away from Lincoln and their 1801 Sunnyhill Rd. home.

Mrs. Dahlberg Is Birthday Honoree

When Mrs. Hulda Dahlberg celebrated her 90th birthday anniversary on Thursday, March 6, it was strictly a family affair, but members of that family came from far-away places to wish Mrs. Dahlberg a happy birthday.

There was a family dinner at Milder Manor where Mrs. Dahlberg has been in residence since 1967, and afterward there was much reminiscing plus news of the present and the current activities of the various members of the family.

In the picture Mrs. Dahlberg is sitting very still so that Mrs. Norma LaPage may pin on the corsage.

Square Dances

The executive board of the Lincoln Council of Square and Round Dance Clubs has scheduled a meeting for Thursday evening, March 20. The officers will meet at 7:30 o'clock at the YWCA, followed by a council meeting at 8 o'clock.

A graduate dance has been planned for 7:30 o'clock next Monday evening at the Antelope Park pavilion. The dance will be sponsored by the Hi-Flyers Club.

Planning 8:30 o'clock dances on Friday, March 21, are the Guys And Gals Club and the Westerners Club. The former group will meet at the Antelope Park pavilion, and the Westerners, at Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Circle Eight Club will meet at 8:30 o'clock, Saturday evening, March 22, at the Antelope Park pavilion, and dancing at the city recreation building at 1225 F, at 8:30 o'clock, Saturday, will be the Hi-Flyers Club members. Also dancing Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock will be the members of the Promenaders Club, who will meet at the Belmont Community Center.

Betrothal Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Wheeler of Alexandria, Va., formerly of Lincoln make announcement this morning of the engagement of their daughter, Hannah Page, to Richard N. L. Andrews, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Nigel Lyon Andrews of Concord, Mass., and grandson of Paul Shipman Andrews, former dean of the Syracuse University Law School.

A June wedding is planned.

Miss Wheeler is a graduate of Oberlin College where she was a member of the Modern Dance Club, Musical Union and the Oberlin Cooperative Association. She now is doing graduate work in English Literature at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Mr. Andrews is a graduate of St. George's School, and of Yale University where he was a philosophy major, a member of the Yale Russian Chorus and the New Haven Chorale Society. He recently returned from two years with the Peace Corps in Nepal. He also is doing graduate work at the University of North Carolina, specializing in regional and envirnmental quality planning.

"GET EXTRA MILK FOR THE WEEKEND," says Barbara Cowsill, singing mother of the Cowsills.

"Weekends really put a strain on the milk supply at our house."

"My brood gets extra active on weekends. And that always makes them extra thirsty. The milk literally vanishes from the refrigerator. Especially with the way they bring in friends for snacks. And there's always Sunday breakfast. We like big ones. The nine of us will drink up two gallons of milk between sunrise and noon. I've learned the best way to cope with this "milk drain" is to be prepared. I make it a point to get more milk for the weekend. Shouldn't you?"

Milk gives you a big lift that lasts.

Camp Fire Group Aids Emergency Shop

The Community Emergency Shop is considerably richer than it was a few days ago. This fact is due to the members of the Wo Su Mee Camp Fire group who turned their energies and efforts into collecting clothing for the Emergency Shop. Needless to say the project was a notable success.

In the picture are Mrs. Jessie Jensen, foreground, receiving the donations on behalf of the shop. The Camp Fire Girls, left to right, are Brenda Lightbody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lightbody; Sharon Portsche, daughter of Mrs. Ralph Goecke; Susan Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams; Janice Klamm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Klamm, and Pam Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Johnston.

The Wo Su Mee group holds its meetings at the Southview Christian Church.

Abby: much ado about nothing

DEAR ABBY: My problem may seem very petty to you, but it irritates me like you wouldn't believe.

I have an 11-year-old daughter named "Rebecca," a beautiful Biblical name which I have always loved. My problem is that everyone calls her "Becky." All her friends, her teachers, and even our relatives (knowing how much I HATE that name) call her "Becky."

I have told people right to their faces that my daughter's name is "REBECCA" and I would prefer that they address her correctly, but they call her "Becky" anyway.

Please tell me what I can do besides correcting these people all the time. Thank you.

REBECCA'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Relax and don't make such a big deal out of it. A Rose by any other name is sometimes "Rosalie."

DEAR ABBY: I would like to add my feelings to those who have something to say about pornography:

My husband and I have two grown children, 21 and 23. Also two youngers ones, 6 and 9. My husband owns and operates a small book store, and in it he has all kinds of books and magazines. Some of the books and magazines could be called "pornographic," as they contain pictures of nudes, and many people regard this as "dirty."

Our own children have been around books and magazines such as these all their lives, and they wouldn't even take a second look at a "dirty" picture another child might sneak to see.

If any of our children have ever wanted to know anything about sex, they have come to us.

Parents who hide pictures and sex books and make such a big mystery about sex are the ones who will have something to worry about when their children reach adolescence.

We've never had one bit of trouble with our older children, and we anticipate none from the younger ones.

Sincerely, MR. AND MRS. E. O.

Bridal Courtesies

Spring bride-to-be, Miss Connie McAdams, is being honored at numerous courtesies preceding her marriage to Guntars Dambro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolfs Dambro of Fremont, on Saturday, March 29.

Sunday afternoon, March 2, a personal shower was presented to Miss McAdams at a party for which Mrs. Clark Kersey and her daughter, Miss Marge Kersey, were hostesses at their home. Fifteen guests were invited for the informal afternoon.

A linen shower was presented to the bride-elect Saturday evening, March 1, when Mrs. Laverne King and Mrs. Alvie Kirkendall were hostesses to 13 guests at a dinner held at the Gay Nineties Restaurant.

Feminine members of the family and family friends were invited to the tea honoring Miss McAdams on Sunday, Feb. 23, for which Mr. Dambro's sister, Miss Ilga Dambro, and Mrs. August Taube were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Taube in Fremont. During the afternoon, a recipe shower was presented to the soon-to-be bride.

Luncheon

The members of the Society of Hall-In-The Grove will meet for a 1 o'clock luncheon, Friday, at Miller and Paine tearoom.

Following the luncheon, a program will be given by two American Field Service students, Jinko Saito of Japan, and Mai Bhao Pichetr of Thailand.

March Ceremony

Bouquets of spring blossoms appointed the altar of St. Thomas Aquinas Church on Saturday afternoon, March 8, for the wedding of Miss Dianne Marie Carson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Carson, and David G. Hayko, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hayko of King Of Prussia, Pa. The service was solemnized at 2 o'clock by the Rev. Raymond Hain,

Miss Amy Jo Ehlers of Waco, as the maid of honor, and the bridesmaid, Miss Diane Remmers of Beatrice, wore slim, floor-length frocks of yellow brocade.

Serving Mr. Hayko as best man was Charles Lyster of Fremont, and the groomsman was Les Harpal. Seating the guests were Don Carson and Craig Kuster, Omaha.

For her wedding gown, which was designed in the directoire mode, the bride chose white silk brocade. The slender gown was accented by long, fitted sleeves of lace, and completed by a chapel train of brocade.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayko will live in Lincoln, at 4410 So. 48th. The bride is a former student at Bishop Clarkson Hospital School of Nursing in Omaha. Mr. Hayko, who attended John J. Pershing College in Beatrice, is a student at the University of Nebraska where he is majoring in biology.

Bridge: test your play

TEST YOUR PLAY

1. You are declarer with the West hand at Six Spades. North leads the queen of diamonds. How would you play the hand?

♠ K Q 7 3 ♥ J ♦ K 9 6 2 ♣ A Q 8 4	N W E S	♠ A 8 6 2 ♥ Q 7 3 ♦ A 5 ♣ K J 10 2

2. You are declarer with the West hand at Three Notrump. North leads the queen of spades. How would you play the hand?

♠ A 9 7 ♥ K Q 5 ♦ A 7 6 4 3 ♣ A 8	N W E S	♠ 2 ♥ J 7 4 ♦ K J 5 ♣ K Q 7 6 4 3

1. The contract is clearly in danger, since the outcome depends at least in part on how the missing cards are divided, but there is a best way of playing the hand. Win the diamond with the king and return the jack of hearts.

Your aim is to try to ruff two hearts in your hand rather than two diamonds in dummy. Both methods could lead to twelve tricks with a 3-2 trump division, but the chance of ruffing two diamonds safely in dummy is rather poor.

Assume the defender who wins the jack of hearts returns a diamond to dummy's ace. Ruff a heart, cash your K-Q of spades, cross to dummy with a club, and ruff dummy's last heart with your last trump. Now enter dummy by playing a low club or ruffing a diamond — depending on which play you judge is safer — and cash the ace of trumps. If the North-South cards are distributed normally, you make the slam.

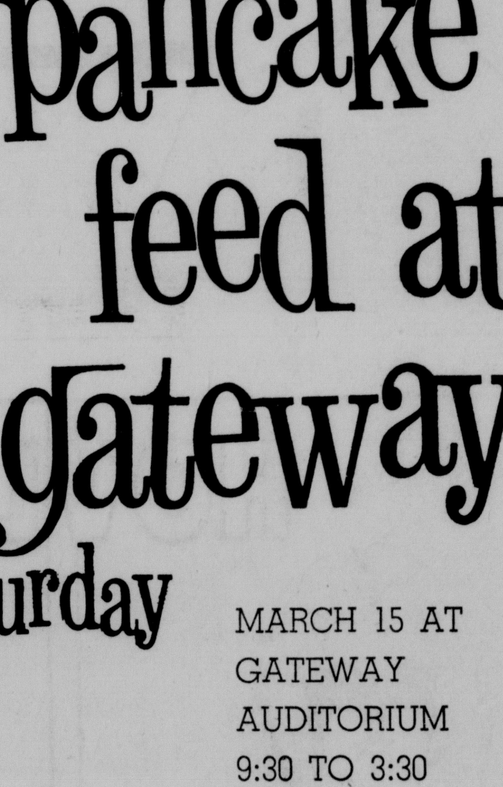

2. You can't be sure of the contract here, either, but again there is a clearly best way of playing the hand. Obviously, nine tricks are there for the asking if the clubs are divided 3-2. So what you do is assume a 4-1 (or 5-0) club division and arrange the play so that you have a chance to bring home five diamond tricks if the clubs misbehave.

Duck two spade leads and win the third round with the ace. Then play a club to the queen and another one back to the ace. If both opponents have followed suit, you're home, but if either of them shows out, you can now play a low diamond to the jack. If North was dealt the queen doubleton or tripleton, you still make the hand.

Note that if you start the clubs by playing the ace and then another club, and run into a 4-1 division, it becomes impossible to score five diamond tricks as you do not have the necessary entries to your hand.

State Demo Leader Calls For Intensive Review Of Smith Appointment

Democratic National Committeeman J. J. Exon Thursday urged the Senate to "intensively review" James Smith's associations with private utilities before considering his confirmation as assistant secretary of interior.

Smith, an Omahan, has been designated as assistant secretary for power and water by Secretary of the Interior Walter Hickel.

Exon raised the question of Smith's "ability to function objectively" in letters sent to Sens. Mike Mansfield of Montana, Edmund Muskie of Maine, Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts and George McGovern of South Dakota.

Smith is marketing relations manager for Northern Natural Gas Company.

Smith is marketing relations manager for Northern Natural Gas Company.

His appointment has been questioned by the American Public Power Association which objected to Smith's long association with the Mississippi Valley Association, which has opposed a number of federal power policies.

"Mr. Smith's historic association and employment by private utilities would appear to be a fitting subject for intensive review by the Senate before confirmation," Exon wrote Mansfield.

"Regardless of the probable recommendations in behalf of Mr. Smith by Senators Hruska and Curtis and by Governor Tiemann, I can assure you that Nebraskans are proud of this state's leadership in the field of public power.

"We are ever-vigilent to the continuing needs of public power and are not unmindful of the ceaseless attacks upon it by its natural predator . . . the private power interest.

"Many of us have been concerned, if not alarmed, by the policies of Secretary Hickel, and question his dedication to the principle of the preservation of our country's natural resources for the common good.

"In view of the secretary's record to date, this latest appointent becomes more critical."

Exon assured Mansfield that he considers Smith's personal character and integrity to be "beyond reproach."

Reinspection Said Not Necessary

Nebraskans who had their motor vehicles inspected voluntarily in January or February won't have to have them reinspected under the new rules now in force, the Motor Vehicles Department said Wednesday.

Ray Johnson, who is in charge of motor vehicle inspections, said that since the original rules were more stringent than the ones adopted by the Legislature there would be no purpose in reexamining those vehicles which already had passed.

Johnson said it is hoped that the inspections can be resumed some time next week.

Lincoln Foundation Awards 2 Grants

Two $1,000 grants were awarded by the Lincoln Foundation Board of Directors Thursday.

The Lincoln Symphony Orchestra Association was the recipient of a $1,000 grant, contributed by Lincoln architect Lawrence Enersen. Enersen.

Foundation directors approved the symphony grant for its program during the next year, although it was explained that the funds would be used to commission a symphony by University of Nebraska professor of music Robert Beadell.

A $1,000 scholarship for licensed practical nurse training was awarded to Mrs. Shirley Jean Welch of Lincoln.

Board members also approved a contract with Pioneer House-Altrusa Club with the agreement that the Lincoln Foundation would accept and maintain in a separate account funds earmarked for the association. The money contributed to the Pioneer-House-Altrusa Club fund will be utilized primarily for programs for aged persons under grants approved by the foundation board.

The plan is similar to the agreement that the foundation has with the Lincoln Park and Recreation Department Advisory Board.

In other business Donald S. Bergquist Jr. was named to fill the unexpired term on the board of directors of the late Byron Dunn.

New members-at-large elected were Corwin Moore, C. C. Fraizer Dwight C. Perkins, Richard E. Kosman, Harry Meginnis, T. J. Fraizer, Louis B. Finklestein and John E. Olsson.

The annual meeting of the Lincoln Foundation was scheduled for Wednesday, April 16. Seven new directors will be elected at that time to fill board terms expiring in 1969.

Power Review Board OKs Consumers-Loup Transfer

The Nebraska Power Review Board has approved an application transferring a four-county retail electrical service area around Columbus from Consumers to Loup River Public Power District.

The four counties involved are Nance, Platte, Boone and Colfax.

Loup and Consumers filed the application jointly.

The board's order is one of the final items necessary to complete the realignment which calls for Loup to sell its share of the Nebraska Public Power System to Consumers which in turn will sell its properties in the four counties to Loup.

Cornhusker Public Power District filed a protest and a cross application on the application.

Cornhusker contended the service area should be transferred to Cornhusker since Consumers wants to abandon the area.

The board ruled, however, that "Cornhusker failed to introduce any evidence to show its abilities or desires with respect to the properties Loup acquired from Consumers, and further failed to introduce any evidence in support of its cross application."

Literary Contest To Honor Palach

Prague (AP)—A Jan Palach literary contest has been organized in the town of Vsetin to honor the young Czechoslovak student who immolated himself in protest against the Soviet bloc occupation.

The winner will have his named engraved on a trophy cast in the shape of a torch, the Bohemian-Moravian student union magazine announced.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.

A State Tournament Is . . .

A State High School Basketball Tournament is:

Hearing basketball scores along with 843s, 812s and 841s over the police radio monitor in our office.

Downtown sidewalks crowded with youngsters in an array of colors (school athletic jackets and band uniforms).

Long lines in front of eating establishments.

Department stores full of youngsters searching for souvenirs of their annual trek to Lincoln.

Bars full of adult fans either celebrating a victory or trying to drown the sorrows of defeat.

Demonstrations, But . . .

Demonstrations, but they'll be impromptu affairs resulting from victory, not the kind of planned things SDS stages, and we might add, they'll be staged with more enthusiasm and more people.

A fight or two, but it'll be a brief skirmish prompted by the thrill of victory against the pain of defeat instead of by any racial feelings.

Tears for losers; laughter for winners.

A constant ringing of the telephone in our sports department from people wanting to know scores, who's playing when and where, records, how many points a certain boy friend scored and why the story on one team's game was on page 2 while another team got page 1 billing in the sports section.

Getting up before it's even time to milk the cows to start the jaunt to Lincoln.

Having car trouble and missing the first half of the game you got up before milking time to see.

Fifteen and 16-year-olds getting equal billing for throwing a basketball through a hoop with the Apollo Astronauts on the front page of newspapers across the state.

A call from an embarrassed woman, who doesn't even know her paper has a sports section wanting to know if Alliance is playing in the tournament.

A variety of temperaments shown by coaches on the bench during their team's game, ranging from the calm sit-still types to the jumping jack types.

Long Vs. Short Rides

A long ride home for the losers; a short ride home for the winners; and it has nothing to do with road mileage.

A coach from some team that didn't make it telling anyone who'll listen that his team could have beaten half the teams that did make it.

A shower for four coaches including a laundry job for his clothes. This will take place at approximately 1:30, 3, 8 and 9:55 p.m. Saturday.

A jubilant time for winners, a mixed emotions time for losers, a 16-hour day for sports writers.

Poise, experience, keeping cool, call it what you will — Northeast showed it's worth the difference in a close game under pressure-packed conditions in the state tournament.

"It was just their poise," Hastings coach Jim Smith said after Northeast's fourth-quarter rally wiped out a six-point deficit just under the six-minute mark and brought the Rockets a 60-55 victory and semifinals berth.

Two disastrous turnovers in three offensive series while Northeast was scoring on all three possessions put Hastings behind for good at 47-46 with 3:40 left. Northeast trailed at 43-37 with 6:19 to go and after a time out came out in full-court pressure.

"We had to put the full pressure on them; we just couldn't let them play with the basketball," Northeast coach Ed Johnson said outside a very quiet Northeast dressing room that showed the Rockets were truly glad to have their first state test out of the way.

"Hastings played real well; we can't take anything away from them," Johnson said. "Rol (6-5 Mike) and Nicolarsen (6-1 Mike) are pretty big guys for our centers. We had trouble staying with Rol. He's a big man underneath the boards.

"We couldn't hit our corner shots, which makes more of a difference. Biggs and Wright weren't hitting. We just told the kids to hang in there and we're just glad to win."

Hastings used a variety of defenses, basically a 2-1-2, but also a 3-2 zone and man-to-man that had Tom White playing in front of Maury Damkroger, facing the Rockets' rugged rebounder.

"We wanted to try to keep Damkroger away from the ball and off the boards," said Harris. "We changed from time to time to try to change the style of the game. You have to do a lot of different things to stay in the game with a team like Northeast. We probably should have left Tom on Damkroger more.

"We expected their press in the fourth quarter and wanted our big guys to bring it up because we didn't think our guards could stay with theirs. But once we lose the lead like we did, we're hurting, for we're not very strong shooters.

"We had a couple of turnovers there that hurt us, plus a missed one-and-one (that Damkroger rebounded, after which Tom Novak scored) when we trailed by just one (47-46)."

Smith, who has seen all five Hastings teams he's brought to the state tourney lose in the first round, also cited key buckets by Dan Cook and Novak as turning the game in Northeast's favor. Cook had two buckets, three free throws and passes for layups to Novak and Bill Biggs in the last quarter, when Northeast began finding the range and taking better shots. Don Strain tipped in his own missed foul shot to help.

Hastings, it must be remembered, trailed Northeast 51-50, going into the fourth quarter of the teams' earlier meeting on the Tigers' court before the Rockets held their hosts scoreless from the field and went on to a 68-54 win.

That game almost rivaled the biggest upset of opening day when Omaha Central blasted Omaha Westside, 71-63, jumping off to an 8-1 lead at the outset and a 36-22 halftime margin to topple a team given a chance by a lot of people to unseat Northeast as champs.

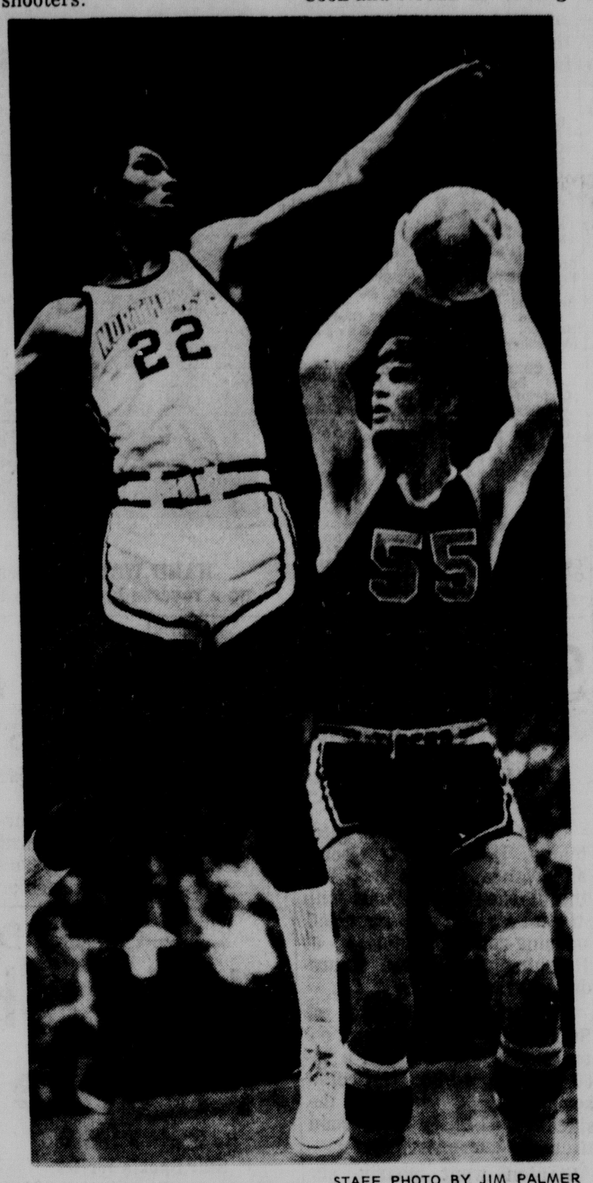

Behind by 53-37 going into the last stanza, Westside rallied to within 67-59 with 1:49 to play before Central's Calvin Forrest put it away with four points. Four Eagles hit in double figures, paced by Henry Cartuthers with 20, while Westside's Juris Stauers had 21.

The other seeded team from Omaha, Creighton Prep, won as expected with a 68-54 victory over Metro rival Omaha Tech, as Mark Langer's 23 markers led the Junior Jays. Tech's John Ray had 15.

Scottsbluff completed the field for the semis with a repeat win over Norfolk, 66-57, the Bearcats' 16th straight victory. They stopped Norfolk, 59-52, for the Big Ten title just before district play.

Frosty Anderson hit 21 and Rick Brown 19 for Scottsbluff, while Norfolk was led by Larry Chapman with 23 and Jeff Lear with 21.

Today's semis in Class A tip off at 1:45, with Northeast playing Omaha Central at Pershing Auditorium and Creighton Prep meeting Scottsbluff at NU Coliseum.

First-Round Wins To Yutan, Sterling

. . . CLASS D ACTION

By DICK HENDERSON
Star Sports Writer

Yutan dumped Chappell, 61-47, and Sterling trounced Overton, 78-58, in first-round Class D state tournament basketball action at Johnson Gym Thursday afternoon.

In the first game it was a case of a cold-shooting Chappell squad against a taller Yutan team.

"We're a small team and needed good shooting to win but we just couldn't hit," said Chappell coach Gerold Radcliffe.

With Yutan trailing, 17-14, Chieftain coach Dave Kroger called for a time out, which could be termed the turning point of the game.

After the rest, the Chieftains went to the big men for the points and they responded. Rick Heldt, a 6-1 freshman, and 6-3 forward Steve Stamp accounted for 10 of Yutan's next 14 points which pulled them to a 28-23 halftime bulge.

Following intermission Chappell came up with a short-lived rally led by Doug Leopold. But then Heldt, Stamp, and 5-8 playmaker Don Epley, put on the stoppers and Yutan eased to the 61-47 final count.

Heldt finished with 17 rebounds and 22 points. He canned 9 of 13 field goal shots, not an unusual feat for Heldt who hit 66 per cent of his shots during the regular season.

When asked who he would like to play in the semifinals, Kroger said Sterling was his choice because "They're supposed to be the best and we want to play the best."

He got his wish, when Sterling flew past Overton in the second game.

The Jets never trailed the shorter Eagles, hitting their first seven field goal tries. Dave Meints missed a 20-foot jumper with 3:23 remaining in the quarter, breaking the string with Sterling in the lead, 15-7.

Cal Christline had another good performance, hitting 8-13 from the field and scoring 17 points before he fouled out at the beginning of the fourth quarter.

"Cal seems to foul out in important games but we were fortunate this time because we could do without him," said Sterling mentor Larry Rathe.

With 6-6 Christline, 6-3 Galen Boldt, and 6-1 Paul Goldenstein hitting practically everything they shot, the Jets broke to a 44-29 halftime lead.

They hit 66 per cent in the first half and, with many reserves playing in the second half, ended with slightly less than 50 per cent shooting for the game.

Sterling had leads of 15 to 26 points throughout most of the second half while coasting to the win.

Boldt was phenominal throughout the game, missing only one shot. He was 9-10 in the field goal department and 1-1 at the charity stripe, collecting 19 points.

Crete, Syracuse Post Easy Wins

. . . TWO SOUTHEASTERN CLUBS WILL CLASH IN CLASS B SEMIS TONIGHT

By KENT SAVERY
Star Sports Writer

Crete and Syracuse made it quite clear that they came to Lincoln to play basketball as both posted lopsided victories in the first round of Class B State Tournament action at the NU Coliseum Thursday afternoon.

Crete won the opening battle of the Redbirds by trouncing Chadron, 71-41. Both clubs are nicknamed Cardinals.

Then Syracuse, not to be outdone, blasted past Scribner, 74-38, to set up a Crete-Syracuse semifinal showdown at 7 tonight at the Coliseum.

Crete, paced by Dave Hrdlicka and Dave Drevo took command from the outset, jumping to a 12-3 lead midway through the opening quarter. The Cardinals stretched the margin to 18-8 at the end of the quarter and 30-20 at the half, then continued to pull away down the stretch with the final 71-41 tally being their widest lead.

The Crete club simply outhustled and outran the taller Chadron quintet.

"This is the type of ball we like to play," Crete coach Walt Harris smiled after the Cards boosted their season mark to 20-2. "We just hope they can play well tomorrow (Friday)," he said.

Looking ahead to the semifinals, Harris said, "We like to move. I just hope we can maintain our mobility."

Mobility and balanced scoring were keys to Crete's success against the western Nebraska team.

Hrdlicka led all scorers with 18, while Drevo, a 6-5 performer, added 17 and Mike Shangreaux 10, despite sitting out much of the game in foul trouble.

But the Cardinal starters weren't the only ones who played well. When the reserves came shuffling in during the fourth quarter, Crete continued to pour it on, outscoring Chadron, 24-9. Altogether, 11 players tallied for Crete.

Six-three Steve Hansen was the only Chadron player in double figures as he hit 13.

Coach Roger Witt's Syracuse charges had an even easier time than Crete as the Rockets completely outclassed Scribner.

While the Apollo spacecraft was descending, the Syracuse Rockets were just taking off. Syracuse blasted to a 24-9 first-quarter advantage and never allowed Scribner to get in the ball game.

Guard Tim Hoffman, a 6-0 senior, scorched the nets for 24 points, all but two from the field, and got 17-point support from running mate Clark Gartner. Six-five Dennis Royal worked underneath and at the line for a dozen and sub Bill Schulte pitched in 12, eight in the final stanza.

"All the kids did a fine job moving the ball," said the pleased Rocket coach Witt after the game.

While the Rockets shot a good 43 per cent from the field, Witt credited the defense with doing an excellent job. "Our kids did a good job defensively. We forced them (Scribner) to take shots they didn't want and we did a good job rebounding."

Scribner had just two men in double figures as Kevin Carper and Kirk Muller hit 14 and 13, respectively.

While Syracuse outscored the Trojans, 56-34, from the field it was even more lopsided in the charity department. The Rockets hit 18 of 29 free throws, while Scribner had just seven charity opportunities, making good on four.

"We didn't need to foul them," Witt said in explaining the difference in the number of free throws the two clubs had taken. "We were ready to play the good defense we had played all week."

Fremont Bergan, using a 6-0 David, needed two overtimes and a technical foul Thursday night to fell the Jolly Green Giants of Schuyler, the defending champions in the State Class B basketball tournament, 79-74, at the University of Nebraska Coliseum.

The David was 6-0 Loren Navratil, who popped in four straight free throws in one-and-one situations in the second overtime to give the Fremont club a berth in tonight's semifinals against Cozad, a 61-45 winner over Ord in an earlier first-round game.

With the score tied, 74-all, Schuyler's big man, 6-6 All-State candidate Gene Harmon, flipped the ball in the air in disgust after fouling out with 32 seconds left and was called for a technical foul.

Greg Rump, 5-11, hit the first free throw, but missed the second and 5-9 Bernie Mruz missed the technical shot, giving Bergan a slim 75-74 edge.

Then a foul on Jerry Kracl with 30 seconds remaining sent Navratil to the line for his heroics. He hit both shots of that foul, then, after a traveling violation turned the ball over to Bergan again, he hit two more free shots to cement the upset.

Harmon, who led all scorers with 39 points, had kept Schuyler in the game after a 24-point second quarter had given Bergan the lead. Harmon scored 12 points in the fourth period as Schuyler rallied for a 62-62 deadlock at the end of regulation play, then scored four points in the first overtime to again keep the Warriors in contention.

In the evening's first game, Cozad advanced to the semifinals with a 61-45 victory over Ord, but it had to put forth a second effort before getting the victory.

Cozad had built a 29-17 halftime lead, but a strong third period by Ord enabled the Chants to storm within three points, 37-34, with 2:07 left in the period on a jump shot by Ron Bredthauer.

Cozad set to work rebuilding its lead in the fourth period, however, using an eight-point effort by Terry Headley to widen the gap to 17 points and ease to the victory.

Ord had allowed the halftime separation by failing to score for nearly six minutes in the second quarter.

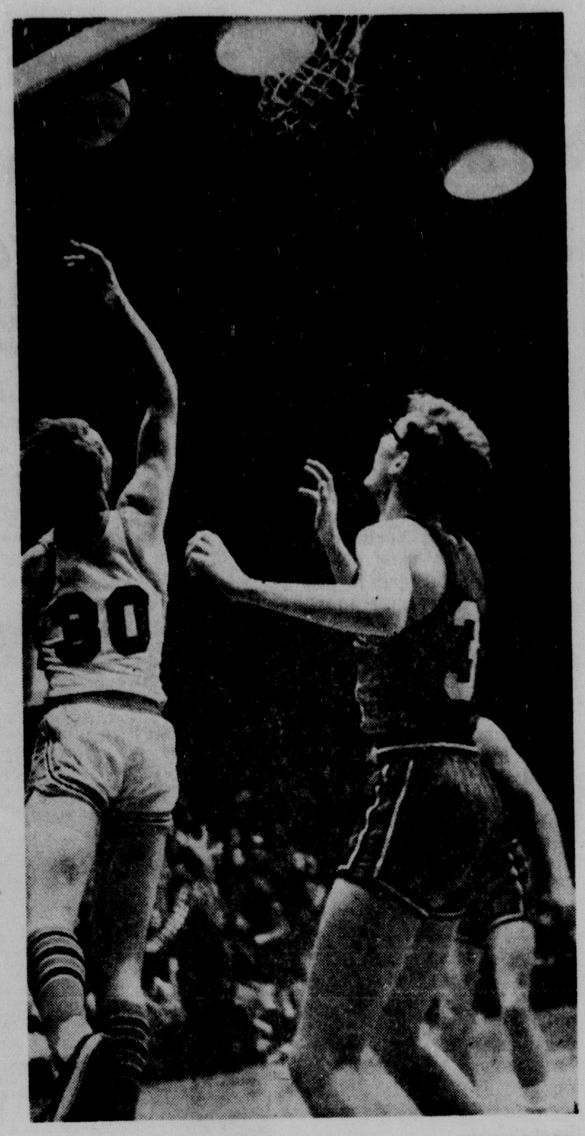

Bredthaurer's jump shot with 2:08 left in the half snapped the cold spell, but by that time Cozad was well in front.

Mount Peps Purdue Win

Madison, Wis. (AP) — Rick Mount pumped in 32 points and Bill Keller had 19 to lead Purdue to an easy 91-71 victory over Miami, Ohio, University Thursday night in the opening round of the NCAA Mideast Regional basketball tournament.

Marquette downed Kentucky 81-74 in the first game, and will meet Purdue in the championship game at 3:05 p.m. Saturday. The winner will advance to Louisville, Ky., next weekend for the four-team national finals.

Mount scored the first eight points for the sixth-ranked Purdue Boilermakers and finished the first half with 18. Most came on one-handed jumpers from anywhere within 25 feet of the bucket.

Keller, his mate in the backcourt, added 12 as the Big Ten champions took a 49-34 advantage at halftime.

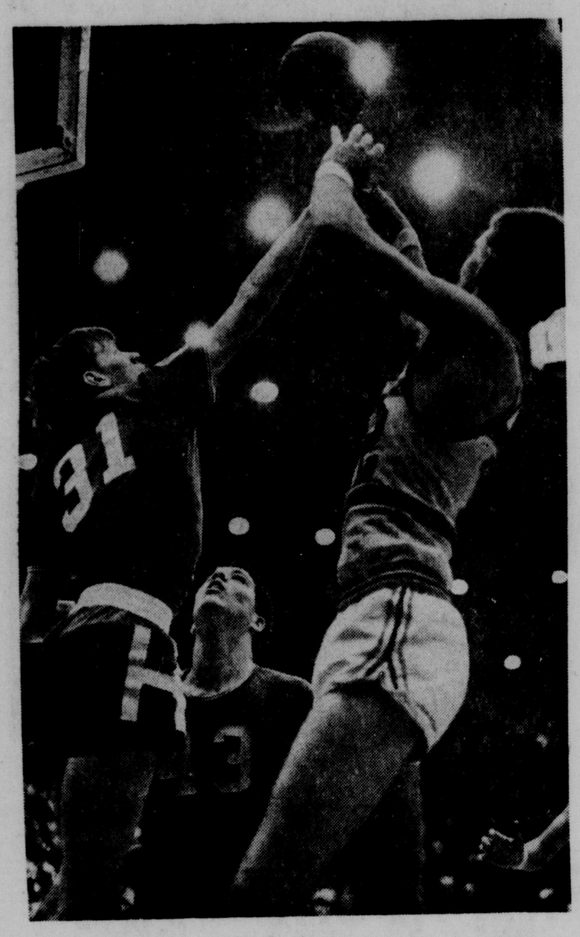

Santa Clara Nips WS In OT, 63-59

Los Angeles (AP) — Santa Clara's Broncos blew an early 18-point lead and needed an overtime period to beat the gallant but unranked Wildcats of Weber State 63-59 in the opening game of the NCAA Western Regional Basketball Tournament Thursday night.

Weber State's bid to upset the No. 3-ranked Broncos fell just short when Dave Sackolwitz missed two free throws with just six seconds remaining and the score was tied 55-55.

Defending 'C' Champ Grant Ousted By Upstart Elkhorn

. . . CAMBRIDGE BOUNCES HEBRON

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

Class C was assured a new state high school basketball champion after the smoke cleared from first round games Thursday night at Pershing Auditorium. Unheralded Elkhorn sidelined defending crownholder Grant, 67-49, while Cambridge downed Hebron in the nightcap of the first day, 64-53.

The two will meet in tonight's Class C semifinals at 8:45, following a Hastings St. Cecilia-Wausa clash at 7 p.m.

Elkhorn came out with a white-hot shooting exhibition against Grant and sped to a sudden 11-3 advantage. The western champs never recovered.

In the first 12 minutes of action Pat Gottsch threw them in from every angle and tallied 18 points. In the final two and a half quarters he didn't score a point, as little Doug Parrott and Lynn Spilman took over for coach Gene Kruger's crew.

Ahead by 16 during the first half, the Antlers still had a 12-point bulge at halftime, leading Grant, 42-27.

The defending Plainsmen got within nine in the third stanza and had several golden opportunities to reduce the margin even more as Elkhorn managed but seven third-quarter points, but failed to take advantage as Elkhorn pulled away again in the late stages.

Grant's John Mathes tied Gottsch for high point honors, while Spilman with 12 and Brad McArdle with 11 were also in double figures for the winners.

Larry Stohler was the only other performer to reach twin totals for the losers with 11 counters.

Cambridge, No. 1 seed in Class C with a 24-1 record, slowed Dale Haase, Hebron's returning all-stater, to a walk in claiming its win in the day's final contest.

Sagging three men around the 6-5 Bear sharpshooter, Haase was held to just 12 points. Even more damaging to the Hebron cause was the fact that Haase sat out much of the third quarter with four fouls and was lost with his fifth just two minutes into the final frame.

Like Elkhorn in the first game, Cambridge dashed to a quick lead. The Trojans were in front 9-1 before the Bears got organized, and though Hebron closed the gap to two at 13-11, Cambridge was back out in front by five, 18-13, at the first-quarter break.

Hebron gained its only lead of the game with two minutes left in the first half at 26-24, and the clubs went to the dressing room at intermission knotted at 28 apiece.

Stubby Jeff Mollring, who paced all the scorers with 27 points, potted a pair of fielders at the outset of the third period and Cambridge was never in real danger again.

When Haase picked up his fourth infraction, the Trojans took advantage and roared out to a 10-point lead, 47-37. Though Hebron got within eight points in the final minute, the Bears never seriously threatened the winners as time ran out.

Two Seattle Clubs Exhibition Winners

. . . TIGERS, CARDS TRIUMPH

By The Associated Press

The expansion Seattle Pilots, who aren't expected to do much winning in the regular American League season, won two exhibition baseball games Thursday.

One Seattle squad edged Oakland 3-2 while another contingent rallied to nip California 7-6.

Lou Piniella slammed a two-run double in the first inning of the Oakland game but the winning game on Mike Hegan's steal of home in the sixth.

A three-run rally in the eighth gave the other Pilot squad its win over the Angels. Rich Rollins greeted Hout Wilhelm with a triple, Tommy Harper doubled, Wayne Comer walked and Don Mincher's high pop fly single allowed Comer to score with the winning run.

Detroit and the New York Mets used an experimental baseball with 10 per cent more resiliency and Dick McAulliffe, Norm Cash and Gates Brown unloaded fourth-inning home runs as the Tigers scored six times in the inning and rolled to a 7-4 victory. Denny McLain, Detroit's 31-game winner, hurled four shutout innings.

Vada Pinson homered and tripled and Mike Shannon cracked two doubles and a single as the St. Louis Cardinals downed Philadelphia 5-3.

Rookie outfielder Carlos May powered the Chicago WhiterSox to a 4-1 victory over Atlanta, driving in one run with a first-inning grounder and two more with an eighth-inning double.

The Washington Senators, only major league team without a triumph, lost No. 7 for Manager Ted Williams, 3-2 to Baltimore. Rookie Bob Floyd singled across two Oriole runs and Don Buford slammed Baltimore's first spring homer.

Willie Mays drove in three runs with a bases-loaded double that sparked San Francisco to a 4-1 win over San Diego.

Bill Sudakis singled home the winning run in the 10th inning to give Los Angeles a 6-5 victory over Boston. Willie Crawford belted a three-run homer for the Dodgers and Carl Yastrezemski hit a solo shot for the Red Sox.

In another 10-inning contest, Chuck Manuel's single drove in the winning run in Minnesota's 3-2 win over Cincinnati.

Tony Horton knocked in three runs with two doubles, a single and a sacrifice fly, helping Cleveland overpower the Chicago Cubs 7-0.

Shortstop Luis Alcaraz lashed three singles and drove in three runs as the Kansas City Royals whipped the New York Yankees 7-1.

Bob Bailey and John Bateman homered and Larry jaster hurled six shutout innings in Montreal's 8-2 triumph over Houston.

Van Berg Entry Wins At Oaklawn

Hot Springs, Ark. (AP) — Countess Marian, owned by M. H. Van Berg of Columbus, Neb. took over the lead in the stretch turn and went on to defeat a field of speedy 3-and-4-year-old distaffers in Thursday's $6,000 feature race at Oaklawn Park.

The 4-year-old filly stepped the six furlongs in 1:12 on a fast track.

Countess Marian returned $13.40, $4.80 and $3. Lil's Bag, the favorite, paid $4 and $2.60 and Jest Mary Lou was $2.80 to show.

Ames, Iowa (AP) — Iowa State University hired its first Negro for a full-time coaching position Thursday when Ray Greene of Miami, Fla., was added to the football staff by coach Johnny Majors.

Majors announced the hiring of Greene to coach the scout team and Joe Avezzano of Florida State to head the freshman program.

St. Cecilia, Wausa Advance To Semis

. . . TWO TOP-RATED QUINTETS WILL MEET TONIGHT AT PERSHING

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

Class C's two top rated teams, Hastings St. Cecilia and Wausa, led the way into the division's semifinals with tighter-than-expected opening-round victories at Pershing Auditorium Thursday afternoon.

Wausa took advantage of Stanton's first-quarter tourney jitters to claim a 75-60 triumph, while St. Cecilia sent pesky Osceola to the sidelines, 71-63, in the second afternoon encounter.

Stanton went nearly six minutes before scoring its first field goal and trailed No. 2-ranked Wausa, 16-5, at the first-quarter break.

Dave Holmquist, who led the winners with 26 points, got his Vikings going with a pair of early baskets, then received supporting help from Ron Nelson, who finished with 23 counters, to establish a 36-25 intermission lead.

Stanton found the range in the second canto and closed the gap to just five points, at 16-11, but was never as close again.

Holmquist went on a scoring rampage in the third quarter to assure the Wausa victory. The 6-3 senior sharpshooter tallied 14 points in the period's first six minutes, his club's entire output during the stretch. The one-man show opened up an insurmountable 50-31 gap.

Stanton's Randy Brooks led a final-frame uprising which got the losers to within nine at 61-52, but Wausa pulled away again to its final 15-point wininng margin.

The Blue Hawks from No. 1-ranked St. Cecilia started like they were going to blow Osceola right out of the building running to a quick 10-0 edge, but the Bulldogs clawed their way back into contention.

After Joey Fjell canned a pair of fielders early in the second stanza, the difference was a mere two points, at 20-18.

The Hawks' ace, Dennis Pavelka, who had been held to a single bucket in the first quarter then came to life. He tallied eight points before the intermission to establish a 33-28 St. Cecilia lead.

—CLASS D POWERS—

Clarks, Shickley Advance To Semis

By DANA PARSONS
Star Sports Writer

Clarks will pit its 20-2 record against Shickley's 19-3 log this afternoon at Pershing as the two Class D powers won opening round games Thursday night at Johnson Gym.

Top-seeded Clarks had the rougher time of it Thursday as it barely hung on to squeeze out a 48-47 victory over a 17-6 Atkinson St. Joseph team. Shickley was never in serious trouble after the first quarter as it downed Wilsonville 71-63.

Clarks was carried into the semifinals by Mark Stuko, who hit 20 points, including four in the last quarter which uushed his team from a 42-42 deadlock to a 46-42 lead. The 5-10 senior's 13 points in the first half had helped the Bombers to a 29-26 lead at the intermission.

Clarks coach Lloyd Lanik was not particularly pleased with his team's performance but hoped that it was nothing more than a case of first-game jitters.

"We're glad to be playing but we hope the nervousness is gone," he said. "There's no way of telling before the game how they'll play. We just hope to do the best we can."

Lanik expressed no preference over who might be his semifinal foe, saying he knew "nothing of either team for tomorrow."

"We just know that every team down here is good," he added.

Strictly on the basis of seedings, Shickley's victory must be classified as a mild upset. Wilsonville's 18-2 record had earned the tourney's third seeded position.

Jeff Biegert's 30 point performance was Shickley's ticket to the semifinals. The 6-0 junior netted 13 points in the second quarter as Shickley was held to an 18-18 first-quarter tie.

Wilsonville's Wiley Wagner got a late start but almost matched Biegert's output. He scored the Wildcats' first eight points of the second half as Shickley's 41-28 halftime lead was sliced to 43-36 midway through the third period.

Wilsonville was unable to get any closer than the seven points however, as Shickley potted 10 out of 15 free tosses in the final stanza. In his one-man crusade, Wagner finished with 22 points, 19 coming in the second half.

Wagner's chief support came from little guards Roger Smith and Bruce Orvis, who fired from long range to the tune of 13 and 12 points, respectively.

Wilsonville goes home with an 18-3 record, having a nine-game win skein stopped by the loss to Clarks.

CSU Surprises Big 8 Champion Buffs, 64-56

. . . NCAA MIDWEST REGIONAL

Manhattan, Kan. (AP) — Upstart Colorado State University, overcoming the individual brilliance of Colorado's Cliff Meely, stunned the Buffaloes 64-56 Thursday night in the NCAA Midwest Regional basketball tournament.

The Rams, an independent team who upset Dayton 52-50 to reach the regional, meet Missouri Valley co-champion Drake at 3:15 p.m. Saturday for a berth in the NCAA finals at Louisville next weekend.

Drake shook off cold-shooting in the first half to romp past Texas A&M 81-63 in the other semifinal Thursday night.

Heroes of Colorado State's second straight surprise party for a more highly rated opponent were Cliff Shegogg and 6-foot-10 Mike Davis.

Shegogg scored 20 points, including four key baskets midway in the second half when the Rams were taking charge of the game.

Davis got 10 points before fouling out with 5½ minutes to go, but more importantly he grabbed 13 rebounds to give Colorado State respect on the boards.

Meely, the Buffs' classy 6-7 sophomore, poured in 32 points. However, he got almost no help from Colorado's second and third leading scorers, Gordon Tope and Mike Coleman, who made only four points between them.

The game was tight until Colorado, the Big Eight champion, went the first 10:15 of the second half with only two field goals, both by Meely. In that span Colorado lost a 30-28 lead and fell behind 46-38.

The Buffaloes never got closer than 50-46 from that point. The Rams then sank five free throws as Colorado scrambled for the ball and restored command at 55-46.

Drake broke open its game by scoring 12 points in a three-minute span.

Tar Heels, Davidson Win

College Park, Md. (AP) — Sophomore Lee Dedmon, assisted both times by Olympian Charlie Scott, scored two baskets in the final 28 seconds and led fourth-ranked North Carolina to a 79-78 victory over surprising Duquesne in the Eastern Regional semifinals of the NCAA basketball tournament Thursday night.

The victory moved the Tar Heels into Saturday afternoon's Eastern finals against intrastate rival Davidson, which defeated St. John's N.Y., 79-69, the opener of the doubleheader at the University of Maryland's Cole Field House.

Mike Maloy scored 35 points and grabbed 12 rebounds for Davidson's fifth-ranked Wildcats, who pulled away in the second half to defeat eighth-ranked St. John's.

North Carolina, 26-3, led 67-53, with 12:12 left, at that point, and within less than seven minutes Duquesne had pulled to within 70-67 on a 14-3 streak as Garry Nelson and Moe Barr each scored four points.

St. Peter's Clips NIT Foe Tulsa

New York (AP) — Elnardo Webster, plagued most of the game by foul trouble, came off the bench and almost singlehandedly carried stubborn little St. Peter's by Tulsa 75-71 in the final minutes of their National Invitation Tournament basketball game Thursday night.

In the opener, unheralded Eddie Mast pulled underdog Temple away from Florida and its second team All-American Neal Walk in the second half and the Owls crushed the Gators 82-66.

Maryland Expected To Name New Coach

College Park, Md. (AP)—The University of Maryland scheduled a news conference for 1 p.m. today, amid persistent reports that Roy Lester, a successful area high school coach would be named head football coach.

Lester, 44, a graduate of West Virginia University, has lost only 10 games during 10 years as coach at Richard Montgomery High School in Rockville, Md.

Corn In 13th Season As Super Salesman

By JOHN HINES
Star Sports Writer

Just like Robin Roberts used to pitch opening day for the Phillies year after year, Roger Corn started another lidlifter at the state tournament at the NU Coliseum Thursday.

Roger started selling concessions at the tournament in 1957 as an undergraduate at the University and has been at it ever since, with the exception of four years in the Navy. He's now a graduate student heading down the homestretch of a notable career and maybe when he's through they can retire his basket alongside other NU athletic mementos.

Roger's specialty are programs and ice-cream bars, with the emphasis on the straight, simple handoff of eskimo pies to the outstretched hands of the waiting masses.

This is in contrast to the long-range bombing of Willard Grummert, now in the Army, who would heave the frozen bars into the stands with unusual accuracy and then catch return coinage thrown back, mostly for show.

"He was the only one who did it and it went over real well with the kids," Corn says of Grummert's technique. "They liked to see him throw and then would throw back 10 pennies just to see him catch them. If they got anywhere close to him, he'd catch them, especially if the coins were flipped so that he could see the edges in the light."

NU athletic concessions manager Bill Fisher, the third boss Corn has had on the job, says nostalagically, "Grummert was the best salesman we ever had. He sold 1,200 bars in one day for the record and 984 another day."

Roger, who has the "reach" at 6-6 to pass the bars back would rather do it that way, however. "I'm not sure exactly where they're going if I throw them," he explains. "I'm afraid if you miss you'll hit somebody not expecting it."

He usually works before predomiantly-NU crowds at Husker events. How do the college and prep crowds differ?

"The high school people are more friendly and seem to remember you better," he says. "People get to know you from year to year when they come back and ask, 'Say, aren't you ever going to graduate?'

"High school kids will buy at anytime, while the university crowd is usually more interested in watching the game, especially if it's close. If one of the kids in a high-school group will buy, quite a few of the others will follow."

The biggest share of the selling is done before the game and between halves or games. During the games, which Roger doesn't get to see much of, he works up in the bleachers, being very careful NOT to walk through rows and obstruct spectators' views. Crowded court conditions limit-lower-bleacher and courtside selling.

Roger's best day he can ever recall was a spring football game, when he made $53 in four hours. Working only on a commission basis, he estimates he makes about $1,000 a year selling and somewhere between $150-$175 for nearly 40 hours during the three-day state tourney.

Seniority counts and Roger has moved up to the better-selling items by simply selling more than anyone else. "The big thing is not to get discouraged but to get out and let people know you're there," he states.

Roger's program-partner, Bob Elwood, is the only NU concessionaire who's been on the job longer, starting in 1954. Bob, who has now graduated, is an ex-Husker track letterman and Roger lettered in swimming. He now teaches swimming classes at the University and plans on a teaching career in elementary education.

Australian Leads Malaysian Golf

Kuala Lumpur (AP) — Australian Frank Phillips fired a 5-under-par 67 Thursday for the opening round lead in the Malaysian Open golf tournament.

A stroke back at 68 were New Zealand's Walter Godfrey, Burma's Mya Aye, Australian David Graham and the host pro, Mike Kelly.

Bob Gadja of Detroit was tied at 69 with Peter Thomson of Australia. Par is 72 for the Royal Selangor Club's championship course.

Thursday The 13th Not Cagers' Best

. . . OR FORECASTER'S (10-6)

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

They've always said Friday the 13th was an unlucky day. Thursday the 13th wasn't exactly the best for defending state high school basketball champions or this forecaster.

Two-time Class A titleholder Lincoln Northeast barely escaped with its skin. After trailing Hastings by six points in the fourth quarter, the Rockets claimed a five-point victory.

But it got worse as it went. Class B champion Schuyler survived one overtime but fell to Fremont Bergan in the second extra period, while Class C's defending champion, Grant, never really got started against Elkhorn.

If those last two were upsets, they weren't alone. Omaha Central started the day at 9:30 in the morning by beating tall and talented Westside.

When the smoke cleared from the day's action, we had accuratedly figured but two of the four Class A games, (picking Northeast and Creighton Prep correctly), with the Class B improving slightly as only Schuyler stumbled.

Class C's two afternoon games went according to form, but neither of the night games did, while three of the four Class D games were on the right side of the ledger.

Final score: Parker 10, Wrong teams 6.

How do the semifinal games look? Exciting! Other than that, here's how we see them:

Class A

Lincoln Northeast over Omaha Central — The Rockets will have to play better than they did against Hastings. Also, Pershing Auditorium may prove to be a more friendly floor, as Northeast had all its intra-city games there.

Creighton Prep over Scottsbluff — The Bearcats fooled us once and may do it again, but if Mark Langer plays as well as he did Thurssday, the Junior Jays will win.

Class B

Crete over Scribner — This could be one of the wildest contests of the weekend. The two split a pair of regular season games, Syracusse winning 52-51, the Cardinals taking the second contesst, 51-49. The rubber game may be just as close.

Fremont Bergan over Cozad — Any club that won't fold under the opening day pressure of a double overtime with defending champion Schuyler should be able to survive this one as well.

Class C

Wausa over Hastings St. Cecilia — Based on first day play, Wausa has the horses to win. St Cecilia was not at its best Thursday, and if the Blue Hawks regroup, could take it all. The winner will be our championship choice. Wausa in a close one.

Elkhorn over Cambridge—Why? It's as good as taking it the other way around. Both rely on hot outside shooting. Anyone's guess as to which one will be steaming this time. Elkhorn gets the call on superior height.

Class D

Sterling over Yutan — Even with Cal Christline fouling out the Jets had little trouble in their opener. Too well balanced for the rest of the field.

Clarks over Shickley — Flipped a coin on this one. Could go either way. After Thursday, probably should have used the coin method on all of them.

Basket Attacked Early As Fan Gets Souvenir

Some enterprising fan acquired a valuable state tournament possession before a game was ever played Thursday morning at the NU Coliseum.

Somebody removed the net on the south basket between 8 and 8:30 a.m., about an hour before the Omaha Central-Omaha Westside opener, but NU custodian Harry Bruns got another one up in plenty of time.

Four Defending Champs Rate Role Of Wrestling Favorites

. . . BIG EIGHT'S 'BIG THREE' MEET

Ames, Iowa (AP) — Four wrestlers are favored to earn repeat championships when the Big Eight Conference becomes the "Big Three" for its wrestling championships Friday and Saturday.

Rated head and shoulders above the rest of the crowd are Oklahoma, Oklahoma State and host Iowa State, which have maintained a title stranglehold since 1949.

Oklahoma boasts two of six returning 1968 champions and has been the nation's top-rated collegiate wrestling power through the season despite a two-meet split with Oklahoma State.

Holding up perennial titan Oklahoma State's hopes in quest of defending the title the Cowboys shared last year is 245-pound footballer John Ward.

Meanwhile, Iowa State has the meet's individual standout in undefeated Dan Gable at 137 pounds but may have to do without Mike Schmauss, the defending title holder at 115.

Schmauss has missed all but two Cyclone outings because of injury this season and was rated only a tossup to beat Gary Wallman, a teammate, for the Cyclone assignment at 123.

Oklahoma's two favorites to successfully defend their titles are Mike Grant, who returns at 145 pounds, and Cleo McGlory at 160.

In addition, the Sooners boast a former national collegiate king, David McGuire at 130.

Opening round of the meet in Iowa State's Armory will be held at 7:30 tonight.

Missouri, Nebraska, Colorado and Kansas State also will compete against the league powers.

The only team to miss the 36th conference test, which concludes with Saturday night consolation and championship finals, will be Kansas.

Oklahoma and Oklahoma State tied for last year's title with 91 points each to Iowa State's 61 for third place.

Churchill Downs Stockholders List Acquired

Louisville, Ky. (AP) — National Industries obtained a list of Churchill Downs stockholders Thursday after the race track failed to appeal a temporary injunction ordering it to surrender the information.

National Industries, seeking control of the Downs, said the list was needed to present its offer of $35 a share to all stockholders. There are 383,292 shares outstanding.

Downs' management previously had refused the request and urged stockholders, if they wished to sell, to do business with the Kentucky Derby Protection Group, made up of seven prominent horsemen.

U.S., Canadian Icers Head For World Meet

Prague, Czechoslovakia (AP) — The Canadian and American ice hockey teams left Thursday for Stockholm, where they will take part in the World Championships.

Both teams lost in friendly games to the Czechoslovak national side. Czechoslovakia stopped the Canadians 2-1 Wednesday night and trounced the U.S. team 11-0 the night before.

20-Year-Olds Allowed First Steps As Adults

Twenty-year-old Nebraskans were allowed to ake their first unsteady steps as legal adults Thursday as Governor Norbert Tiemann signed LB167 — which gave them the right and obligation to shoulder adult responsibilities.

It shouldn't have come as a surprise to them or anyone else, for when they were babies in arms the fact that good things were in store could be read into the events of the day.

These post-war pre-pill fortunates came into the world at a time when Dewey managed to yank defeat from the jaws of victory, when Prince Charles was fortunate enough to have been a boy, when Whittaker Chambers was ratting on his old drinking buddies and when the Council on Pharmacy ruled that intravenous administration of alcohol was not a good treatment for delirium tremens.

First Taste

And the newest good tiding, although still not extending suffrage, allows them their first taste of liquor.

Barely before the governor's pen was returned to the inkwell, pub telephones started ringing off the wall with, "Is it really legal?" inquiries.

It was and is, but for much of the day the turnout was small.

Many taverns continued to turn away 20-year-olds, because they were waiting for the "high sign" from the Liquor Control Commission.

The sign came and so did they, and but for a few mutterings about the current midterm exams at the University of Nebraska and being "robbed" of a personal birthday celebration, a good number were standing in line Thursday night to get their elbows across the counter.

One University of Nebraska student hangout reported its new patrons were standing in line outside the establishment waiting for a first sip.

Fifteen minutes after another tavern near the campus opened sales to 20-year-olds, the bartender said, "we've got about 30 in here now and we've got more coming in all the time."

A beer distributor reported most establishments are undoubtedly well-stocked for the onslaught, but "by tomorrow morning, I'm sure we'll be getting more than the usual number of orders."

Contracts, Wagers

The legislation also permits 20-year-olds to enter into binding contracts and to wager at pari-mutuel horse races among other things.

LB167 does not, however, give 20-year-old Nebraskans the right to vote. The 21-year minimum voting age is written into the state constitution and requires a constitutional amendment for change.

Nebraska voters last November turned down an amendment which would have lowered the voting age to 19, but a bill pending in the Legislature as LB168 would re-submit to voters next year a similar amendment dropping the age to 20.

Nebraska was calculated to have had 21,204 persons in the 20-year age category last year. None was enrolled in regular high schools but about one-third of the 20-year-olds were engaged in higher education studies of one type or another. The remaining two-thirds were in the state's labor force or in military service.

Fifteen per cent of the 20-year-olds were married.

Of Nebraskans inducted into military service last year, 42% were 20 years of age.

Lottery Winner Dies Of Shock

ORDINANCE NO. 9709

AN ORDINANCE amending Section 17.20.030 of the Lincoln Municipal Code establishing the conditions and procedures for connections to public water mains and repealing Section 17.20.030 of the Lincoln Municipal Code and all other ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska:

Section 1. That Section 17.20.030 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be and it hereby is amended to read as follows:

"Section 17.20.030. Each premises supplied with water must have a separate tap, supply pipe, service pipe, stop box and meter. The minimum size tap for each new or renewed service shall be three-fourths inch in diameter. All three-fourths and one inch taps to the main shall be made with the use of a corporation stop. All taps greater than one inch and less than six inches shall be made by means of a tapping sleeve and valve, in which the curb stop cock shall be at the tap valve on the main instead of in the sidewalk space. Taps of six inches and larger in an existing main shall be made by means of the previously described tapping sleeve and valve installation. Taps of six inches and larger may be made by a tee on the main and a gate valve of the service size if the main so tapped is in the process of construction and if such tap has the prior written approval of the Supervisor of Water Distribution and the city Engineer.

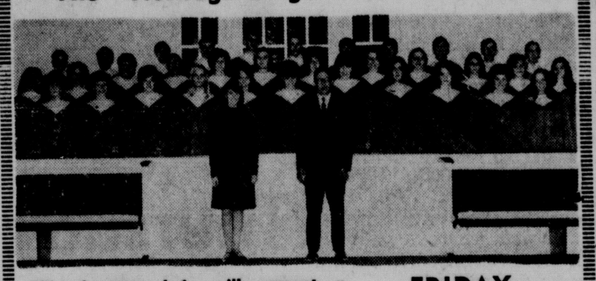

The size of the meter and service pipe shall be the same as the tap, except when the service pipe and tap are larger than the anticipated present demand on the premises, in which case a smaller meter may be installed with the approval of the Lincoln Water System, provided that a five-eighths inch by three-fourths inch meter may be installed in a one-story, one-family unit dwelling not exceeding one thousand square feet in floor area. The Lincoln Water System shall determine type and size of each installation, based on conditions of usage of water at each service location."

Section 2. That Section 17.20.030 of the Lincoln Municipal Code and all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith be and the same hereby are repealed.

Section 3. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication according to law.

Summer Job Program To Benefit Deaf Youths

Plans have been completed for a summer job program for deaf youths in Nebraska, according to Dr. Charles W. Falls, president of the Nebraska Sertoma Hearing Project.

The program is the first of its kind in the state and will include students from Lincoln and Omaha, where it will be coordinated by existing Youth Employment Service (YES) staffs.

It will be promoted by members of the Lincoln Sertoma Club in Lincoln and the Downtown and West Omaha Sertoma Clubs in Omaha.

Funds from the YES annual Pancake Jamboree on March 20 at Pershing Auditorium will be used to finance the new program, as well as the present YES projects.

Potential employers have already been contacted in Omaha and Lincoln, and plans will be made soon to match students with employers, arrange job interviews and provide employe and employer with information to answer all questions about job requirements and the employe's abilities.

Vocational counseling will be available for discussion of minor problems and misunderstandings that may occur. Information will be given to employers so that they may better understand the communication problems of the deaf.

Jobs available will range from kitchen helper to clerk-typist for girls and from janitors to blue print copy makers for boys.

The program in Lincoln will be centered at the YES office in Room 221 of the Lincoln Center Building. The Omaha headquarters will be at the YES office at 2565 St. Marys.

According to Dr. Falls, a similar program has been operating successfully in Washington state for several summers. Parents there reported, he said, that after children had a new sense of summer employment, their responsibility and more confidence in themselves.

Donald Shriner Will Seek Seat On School Board

Donald H. Shriner, Lincoln association management and public relations executive, announced Thursday he will run for election to the Lincoln Board of Education.

Shriner, 44, of 5720 Normal Blvd., is president of Shriner Association Management, Inc.

He was the executive director of the Nebraska Centennial Commission.

A founder and secretary-treasurer of Agricultural Careers Inc., which sponsors the annual National Agricultural Youth Institute, Shriner also is a member of the American Legion, Lincoln Ad Club, Lincoln Chamber of Commerce and special events chairman of the Nebraska Cancer Crusade.

Four of Shriner's six children still attend the Lincoln Public Schools.

E. Lebsack In Council Race

Edward W. Lebsack, 60, of 1035 So. 6th, filed Wednesday for a City Council nomination in the April 8th primary election.

Lebsack, who finished seventh out of 17 candidates in the 1967 council primary, said he would, if elected, represent the entire people of the city rather than any particular interest group.

"I am very much interested in the betterment of Lincoln," he said.

He is making his fourth bid for an elective office and also was a write-in candidate for the Airport Authority in 1963. Lebsack has been an unsuccessful candidate in running for the State Railway Commission in 1964 and as a county commissioner in 1966.

He is now employed at Lebsack Bros. tavern.

Lebsack is a member of the American Legion, Elks Lodge 80, Izaak Walton League, Frieden's Lutheran Church, Salt Valley Watershed and the Nebraska Park and Recreation Association.

His father, Adolph Lebsack, and an uncle H. J. Amen, have been members of the City Council.

Ammonia Victim Kovar Said Fair

Robert Kovar, 53, of Crete Thursday underwent surgery at a Lincoln hospital to repair damage caused by inhalation of poisonous anhydrous ammonia fumes in the Crete train wreck disaster last month.

A Lincoln General Hospital spokesman said Kovar's post-surgery condition was fair.

Msgr. Kraemer Leaving Blessed Sacrament Post

Msgr. August J. Kraemer, pastor of Blessed Sacrament Church since 1931, has announced his retirement.

He has been a patient at St. Elizabeth Hospital the past two months, where he underwent major surgery. Following a period of convalescence out of town, Msgr. Kraemer will return to Lincoln later this spring for a farewell parish reception.

Ordained in the Lincoln Diocese in 1925, he served four years as assistant pastor in David City, Hastings and Fairbury and was then appointed pastor of St. Mary's Church in Alexandria and put in charge of St. Joseph Church in Gilead.

On April 12, 1931, he was appointed pastor of Blessed Sacrament. Msgr. Kraemer became a domestic prelate in 1955 and served as a diocesan consultor from 1956 to 1966.

Under his administration the present church was built and was dedicated during ceremonies on April 26, 1950.

Msgr. Charles J. Keenan, pastor of St. James Church in Mead and a former assistant pastor at Blessed Sacrament, has been appointed pastor of Blessed Sacrament to replace Msgr Kraemer.

He has also served as assistant pastor at St. Cecilia Church in Hastings and has been pastor of St. Michael in Hastings, St. Thomas Aquinas in Lincoln and Sacred Heart in Hebron.

While pastor at St. James, Msgr. Keenan also served on the staff of John F. Kennedy College.

The Rev. Philip J. Rauth, principal of Neumann Central High School in Wahoo, has been appointed to replace Msgr. Keenan as pastor of St. James.

Dr. G. Coleman, Chemist, To Join Wesleyan Staff

Dr. George H. Coleman, a senior chemist at the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory in Livermore, Calif., will join the Nebraska Wesleyan University chemistry faculty this fall.

He will serve as an associate professor of chemistry, according to Dr. Frederick Blumer, vice president for academic affairs.

Dr. Coleman, who earned his doctorate at the University of California at Los Angeles, has been with the laboratory for 12 years. His duties included research on the radioactivity of actinide elements in connection with the atomic energy programs of the laboratory.

He also served as a group leader in the Atomic Energy Commission's "Plowshare Program," which is aimed at developing non-military uses for nuclear explosives. The group conducted research on the distribution of radioactivity after underground nuclear explosions.

Market Closes Sharply Lower

New York (AP) — The stock market closed sharply lower Thursday as it posted its second straight losing day.

The Dow Jones industrial average, sinking from the start, lost 10.38 points to finish at 907.14, the lowest it has closed since Feb. 28 when it was 905.21. The Dow was off 3.41 points Wednesday, after advancing the first two days of the week.

Losses also outnumbered gains from the start and of 1,547 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange 948 declined, and 361 advanced. New highs for 1968-69 totaled 9 and new lows 79.

"The atmosphere," brokers said, "is one in which you can't expect the market to gather strength. It's just drifting."

They attributed the decline in part to what they said was generally discouraging news, such as a dip in auto sales, an increase in business spending plans to a level that could upset administration efforts to halt inflation, deterioration in the British trade position, and lack of good news regarding Vietnam.

Volume on the New York Stock Exchange was 1.03 million shares, compared with 8.72 million shares Wednesday.

Blocks of 10,000 shares or more totaled 63, compared with 51 Wednesday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 2.7 at 332.2, with industrials off 5.3, rails off .7, and utilities off .9.

The New York Stock Exchange index of some 1,200 common stocks was off 0.39 at 55.18. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index was off .66 at 98.39.

Conglomerate issues generally were lower. The head of the Justice Department's Antitrust Division has testified he expected to look at, and possibly bring suit against, some conglomerate mergers that already have been put into effect.

Loew's Theatres, most-active on the New York exchange on 196,300 shares, was off 3/8 at 40¾.

Of the 20 most-active issues on the American Stock Exchange were ahead, and 9 were lower, with 1 unchanged.

Volume was 3.82 million shares, compared with 3.36 million Wednesday.

Hog Prices Are Higher At Omaha

Omaha (AP) — Hog prices moved 25 to 50 cents higher on both butchers and sows at Omaha Thursday.

Butchers weighing in the 210-230 lb. weight brackets topped at 21.00-21.50 while less desirable quality or lighter weights were turned at 20.00-21.00.

Sows under 600 lbs. were traded at 18.00-19.25.

Cattle classes were active with a good showing of choice steers and heifers in the run.

Prices on cornfed beeves were fully 25 higher, some 50 higher while cows were reported at steady to 25 higher prices.

Bulls were steady along with a limited feeder trade. Feeder cattle made up a short 20% of the fresh supply and were generally consigned to Friday's auction.

A packet of high-choice and prime 1,225 lb. steers drew 29.75 with next best marked 29.15.

Sir loads of high-choice and prime heifers were included in the listing. These scaled 950-1,100 lbs. and sold 28.25-28.50, three loads at each price.

Slaughter lambs were too scarce for a market test and were quoted steady along with butcher ewes.

Grain Finish Mostly Higher

Chicago (AP) — Grain futures fluctuated nervously within a narrow price range on the Chicago Board of Trade Thursday, but closed mostly on the profit side.

Corn futures, however, closed with a loss and soybeans were irregularly lower.

Trade was fairly mixed and volume was on par with recent light days. It appeared that most traders were taking a stand-aside position, pending issuance of two government reports. One will list the amount of grain farmers have placed under loans and the second, to be issued Friday, will show how much acreage farmers are intending to plant to the major crops this season.

At the close, wheat was 1/8 to 3/4 cents a bushel higher, March 1.31; corn was 1/8 to 3/8 lower, March 1.14⅝; oats wer 3/4 to 1 cent higher, March 65¾ cents; rye was 1/8 to 1/2 higher, March 1.16; and soybeans were unchanged to 5/8 lower, March 2.60⅝.

City Hall Departments Begin Big Move Today

The big move for City Hall departments into the new County-City Building begins Friday.

The moving process will mean the disruption of service to citizens with departments being closed for business while being moved, according to Wayne Harvey, city purchasing agent.

Public Works Director Robert Obering announced that the engineering department, which also includes the traffic engineering office, will be closed Friday so that materials can be packed.

"Our offices will likely be closed through Tuesday," Obering said.

He said some of the drafting equipment will be moved Friday with the rest of the engineering department being moved Monday.

Also closed on Friday will be the Parks and Recreation Department director's office.

Planning Director Douglas Brogden said his department closes at noon Friday and will remain closed for the first part of next week.

Wool Revival Seen

Denver (UPI) — A substantial revival in the popularity of wool cloth in the coming decade has been predicted by William J. Vines of London, managing director of the International Wool Secretariat.

Life Investors Earnings Up

Total statutory earnings of Life Investors, Inc., increased 103% or an increase of 86% a share in 1968, according to a report by Chairman Ronald L. Jensen.

Earnings were $1,058,161 or 41 cents a common share compared to 1967 earnings of $519,684 or 22 cents a share, Jensen said.

Total income in the insurance division increased 52% and mutual funds increased 65%.

Based on projected growth and early 1969 operations, the company's performance should show a substantial gain this year, Jensen noted.

Life Investors operations include insurance, mutual funds, banking and real estate. The company is continuing to explore activities for future acquisitions, Jensen said.

Ruth E. Graves, Once Wesleyan Girls Dean, Dies

Miss Ruth E. Graves, former dean of women at Nebraska Wesleyan University, died Wednesday in Denver at the age of 68.

Services are pending and burial will be in Greeley, Colo.

Miss Graves was dean of women, an associate in the music department and a piano instructor at Wesleyan from 1940 to 1944.

She left in 1944 to take a music position at North High School in Denver, where she later retired.

A native of Osage, Iowa, Miss Graves received a bachelor's degree in music from Colorado State College Conservatory and bachelor of arts and master of music degrees from Northwestern University. She also attended Chicago Music College, University of Southern California summer school and the American Institute of Normal Methods.

Before joining the Wesleyan faculty, Miss Graves taught music in Kimball for 15 years.

While instructing at the Lincoln college, she served as director of choirs at Grace and First Methodist Churches.

Survivors include a brother, John, of Otis, Colo.

Wanek's OF CRETE

13 HUGE STOREWIDE HOUR SALE

SATURDAY, MARCH 15th ONLY . . . 8:00 A.M. TO 9:00 P.M.

WHY THESE SPECIAL LOW PRICES FOR 13 HOURS? Because we must balance our inventory! If you need home furnishings . . . run! If you know of anyone who needs home furnishings . . . tell them to run! But whatever you do, don't miss WANEK'S Saturday, the 15th 13-hour sale. You will save as you never dreamed possible. Every inch of our huge warehouse and stock was searched . . . every corner scrutinized for odds and ends . . . merchandise in our stocks a little too long. Our aim . . . to make room for beautiful new things on the way. A few dollars in our bank account working for us buying new merchandise, is far better than many dollars tied up in precious merchandise unsold. So look at these values, then come in and take advantage of these lucky 13 hour bargains. Many one-of-a kind items in this special sale, so shop early for best selection. The doors are open from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. All items are subject to prior sale. Sorry, no C.O.D. or phone orders. IMPORTANT! All merchandise tagged for sale is sold as sampled. Pay no money down, as little as $8 monthly on WANEK'S easy terms.
